District Courts Get Tough Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The spotlight focused Wednesday on a pair of rural counties in South Carolina and Virginia as Negro leaders worked on strategy for winning an end to segregated schools in the South.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he isn't going to tip his hand about those plans in advance of a conference of Negro leaders in Atlanta Saturday.

"We'll decide then just what steps will be taken," Marshall said. "We'll study the situation state-by-state but the immediate problem is concentrated in South Carolina and Virginia."

In declaring last year that segregated schools are unconstitutional, the Supreme Court acted on appeals by Negro parents from South Carolina, Virginia, Kansas, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

"There isn't any problem in the District or Kansas or Delaware," Marshall said Wednesday.

The court, in amplifying its original decision Tuesday, handed to U.S. district courts the task of bringing school segregation to an end "as quickly as practicable."

Marshall indicated it is likely the NAACP will institute suits in other states practicing segregation in order for the issue to get into the courts quickly.

But the first action will be in the cases involving Clarendon County, in the east central part of South Carolina, and Prince Edward County, in central Virginia. In the year since the court's original decision, neither South Carolina nor Virginia has made any specific moves toward ending segregation. Kansas, Delaware and the District have.

Prince Edward County took a step in the other direction Wednesday night. The board of supervisors, which is responsible for appropriation of school funds, voted unanimously to cut off funds for operation of county schools in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Senate Passes 8% Pay Raise For Postal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted 78-0 Wednesday to give 500,000 postal workers a pay raise averaging 8 per cent.

The raise, described by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) as acceptable to President Eisenhower, would be retroactive to March 1. There is a chance the House will act next week, sending the bill to the White House.

Eisenhower on May 19 vetoed a bill to make the raise an average 8.6 per cent. He said the cost—about 179 millions—was higher than necessary and that the bill contained inequities in the Post Office Department pay scales.

The cost of the measure the Senate passed today was estimated at 184 million dollars. Every employee would get at least a 6 per cent raise, and new job reclassification features demanded by the administration would permit higher raises for those rated higher in the postal service.

The vetoed bill would have given every employee at least a 7 per cent raise, with other benefits bringing the total payroll increase to 8.8 per cent.

YUGOSLAV NAVAL VESSEL SINKS

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Twenty-six officers and men drowned early today when a small vessel of the Yugoslav navy sank in the Senj channel along the Adriatic coast during a storm.

The Belgrade radio announced a 60-mile-an-hour wind was blowing. Naval headquarters ordered three days of mourning.

Red Boss Willing To Borrow U.S. Business Ideas

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist party boss, told Yugoslav workers Wednesday the Soviet Union is willing to adopt good American industrial methods.

Khrushchev visited the Rade Koncar Electric Motor factory here with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan. They completed a tour of northern Yugoslavia's industrial centers, then headed back for Belgrade to issue a joint statement of principles with Yugoslav President-Marshall Tito.

At the factory, Khrushchev asked a workers' representative how the business operates, received an answer on price and trade details, and said he couldn't understand it.

"Never mind," the Soviet party boss said. "We've got an idea about how you work. It's different from our system, and I'm afraid we can't imitate yours, but don't be offended."

Then, inspecting some of the new plant's American machine tools, Khrushchev added:

"We're even prepared as you are to borrow ideas from the American methods, if we find them good."

The plant is one of the largest in Yugoslavia, employing about 3,600 persons.

Senate Committee Hears Proxy Fight For Ward's Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — A replay of the recent proxy battle for control of Montgomery Ward began Wednesday before a Senate Banking subcommittee.

John A. Barr, chief executive of the big mail order house, the lead-off witness, hotly denied that the company entered into a contract with the AFL Teamsters Union in return for votes.

Barr, who succeeded the veteran Sewell Avery as Ward chairman after management turned back the bid of Louis E. Wolfson to take over control, negotiated the contract with the union during the proxy fight. The union then announced the 18,500 shares of Ward stock in its welfare funds would be voted for the management.

Robert Wallace, the subcommittee staff director, commented that the contract was negotiated at a "rather ticklish time" during the proxy fight.

Barr replied that proxies were never mentioned during the negotiations. And he said the negotiations began many months before Wolfson announced he was heading up a group to seek control of Ward.

Investigators Hear Incredible Story On Bribe Taking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool, denied Wednesday he took a $50,000 bribe from a Chicago contractor. He admitted, however, he filed false income tax returns from 1951 through 1953.

In sworn testimony that left Senate investigators laughing incredulously at some points, the stock supply officer denied taking money from Chicagoan Harry Lev or from any other contractor.

Specifically, Wool denied a story related to the investigations subcommittee by Brooklyn manufacturer Leon M. Levy that a $50,000 payment was turned over to Mrs. Wool—in the captain's presence—in a restaurant near New York's Biltmore Hotel in 1953.

Levy, now retired from the witness stand by a heart ailment, said business hustler Marvin Rubin told him of making the payment as part of a $50,000 payoff for swinging a two-million-dollar contract to the Chicago manufacturer.

"That I never got," said Wool, a heavy-browed, husky-voiced man who used to head armed forces clothing purchases in New York and now is assistant to the supply director at Wilkins Air Force Depot in Shelby, Ohio.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark.) produced Wool's 1951, 1952 and 1953 income tax returns when the witness said he paid for an expensive house in Morristown, N.J., partly out of the profits of a dress shop he and his wife owned.

These returns pictured the business as losing $2,175 in the three years, and a ledger for the dress shop showed a further loss—adding up to the business going $3,854 into the red ink during its four-year existence.

The questioning of Wool centered in the story told last week by Levy before he was hospitalized. Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) voiced suspicion Wednesday that Levy faked a heart attack to avoid further questioning. The Brooklyn man entered a hospital after Bender denounced him as a "crook."

Raise Number Red Chinese Hold From 52 To 63

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department Wednesday raised from 52 to 63 the number of Americans it believes to be held by the Chinese Reds. It disclosed it had asked the Reds for information leading toward the release of all 63.

The revised list added 11 men, six from the Navy and five from the Coast Guard, who were lost in separate planes off China Jan. 18, 1953.

"We have some reason to believe these people are alive," press officer Henry Suydam told newsmen. This was in reply to questions as why the department has not inquired into the individual cases of all the hundreds of men still listed as missing in the Korean War.

Suydam said the Chinese have been "professing complete ignorance" about these 11.

He reported a new contact, the latest in more than a dozen, took place last Monday at Geneva, Switzerland, between U.S. Consul General Franklin Gowen and Red China's consul general there.

Suydam said Gowen, who had been told of the impending release of four American fliers who are the plight of the other Americans still held, and renewed his request for information that had been promised on all cases of Americans imprisoned or otherwise detained.

Gowen gave the Chinese consul the list of 41 civilians and 11 fliers previously reported held and also inquired about the 11 Navy and Coast Guard men, Suydam said. He said Gowen was told the list would be forwarded to Peking and a reply would be forthcoming whenever any word came back from the Red China capital.

Stevenson Calls Immigration Law Misguided Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai Stevenson Wednesday night called the nation's immigration law a "misguided policy" which requires quick revision.

The last Democratic candidate for President put himself behind President Eisenhower to the extent of saying he hopes a proposed revision of the Immigration Act will succeed in liberalizing it.

Stevenson, a leader among potential Democratic presidential candidates in 1956, told a 300th anniversary celebration of Americans of Jewish faith in a prepared speech:

"When I hear people who sound as though they regretted the fact that anyone dared come to this country after 1776, I often wonder how different the history of the world might have been if the nearly 40 million people who did come to America between the Revolution and the last war had remained in Europe—how much greater Europe would have been in science, in art, in industry, in moral might and influence; and how feeble and undeveloped our own dear land would be."

"A misguided policy has of late not only prevented us from helping to heal the world's grievous wounds, but has strangled this flow of new talent and energy. We all know that our current immigration laws will soon undergo an urgent revision and that the steps recently and at long last announced will succeed."

Artificial Leg Is No Handicap

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Jack Cavanaugh, 18, was given his graduation diploma from Cambridge High School Wednesday night and a wealth of admiration from the audience.

He was the school's best baseball pitcher, winning three and losing none.

Jack has had an artificial right leg since babyhood.

Despite it, he pitched a four-hitter and two three-hitters with a team that won only two other games out of 12. He probably could have made the basketball varsity and would have been out for football if his mother had let him.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to fly to the United States in a German Lufthansa airliner June 13, government officials said Wednesday night.

Strikes Cripple British Industry

LONDON (AP) — Top British trade union officials failed Wednesday night to end a nationwide railway strike that is slowing the country's booming industrial machine and threatening millions with unemployment.

The president of the striking railroaders' union, A. A. Hallworth, walked out of a conference with a six-man Trades Union Congress committee and said:

"We have explained our position to them now that the strike is on. No further meeting has been arranged but our executive will continue its daily meetings tomorrow."

"There has been no material change," the union's general secretary, Jim Baty, told newsmen. TUC Chairman Charles Gollins, who presided at the meeting, said, "We cannot possibly leave it on this basis. We must make other moves."

The TUC General Council, top union executive body, had directed its committee to "obtain by negotiation a satisfactory settlement" of the walkout now in its fourth day.

Freight deliveries by rail were running an estimated one-fifth of normal. Factory stockpiles of raw materials slowly dwindled and threatened to shut down some key industries such as the steel mills by the week's end.

The government authorized independent bus companies to operate in and out of London to help move workers from the congested capital. Scotland Yard appealed to motorists to stagger their journeys home after work in an effort to relieve traffic chaos.

Office and factory workers walked, waited patiently in long bus queues, packed the subway trains or thumbed lifts from motorists going their way.

A dock strike of 20,000 stevedores in six ports further crippled Britain's export drive. More labor trouble loomed with a Scottish coal miners' demand for more pay.

Baty, leader of the 67,000-member striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, challenged the government to "do something" through the Ministry of Labor about settling the crippling stoppage. He told newsmen "The door is always open."

Find Body Of 8-Year-Old Girl Missing Since May 23rd

DOSTER, Mich. (AP) — The partially decomposed body of Jeannie Singleton, 8, was found hidden in a forest of stubby pine trees in wild back country late Wednesday.

Clothes had been torn from her body from the waist down and police said she apparently had been raped and then murdered, possibly the day she vanished, May 23.

The Kalamazoo school girl, lame from an attack of rheumatic fever, had been beaten around the head. Most of the teeth were missing. The body was found lying face down. No attempt had been made to cover it.

Five farm children, playing hide and seek in a section they rarely frequented, stumbled upon the body.

The nearest road — two runs through a field—was some 100 feet away. The closest travelled road is almost a mile beyond. State Police Sgt. Victor Beck Michigan.

Company, Union Still Far Apart

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers and Ford Motor Co. agreed Wednesday on a five day extension of their contract, just 12 hours before 140,000 Ford workers were scheduled to strike.

Ford workers across the nation had been poised to leave their jobs at 12:01 a.m. (local time) Thursday on call from the union.

But the contract extension until "Monday morning"—no time was specified—eased the pressure that had been building up steadily in the bargaining room since negotiations started seven weeks ago.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union and company "are still far apart on many important issues, in addition to the question of the guaranteed annual wage."

He confirmed earlier reports, however, that Ford had put a new proposal on the bargaining table since first offering a stock purchase plan last week. Details of the new offer were not disclosed. "Obviously," said Reuther, "there has not been sufficient time to explore fully details of the new proposal."

The earlier reports were to the effect that Ford's latest offer was more in line with union demands for some form of company payments to laid off workers in addition to state unemployment compensation. There still was no confirmation of this, but the union's willingness to extend the agreement lent strength to the reports.

UAW leaders had indicated they would not extend the contract unless they felt real progress was being made towards settlement of their demands. And the guaranteed wage tops the list of demands.

The new development put added emphasis on the UAW's simultaneous negotiations with General Motors. Some observers interpreted the move as designed to enable the union to continue playing one company against the other.

The GM-UAW contract was to expire May 29. But the union delayed filing termination notice so it is not free to strike at GM until next Tuesday midnight. The union says a Ford strike could come anytime after 12:01 a.m. Monday.

The 300-man GM-UAW council, representing GM plants across the nation, was summoned Wednesday to a special meeting in Detroit next Tuesday to hear a report on negotiations and to "take whatever action is necessary."

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The government Wednesday night announced the arrest of eight Communists including four accused of entering Greece from Bulgaria to reorganize the Red espionage network.

They say he genuinely was reluctant to run in 1952 because he felt he should have finished his term as governor—a situation that does not apply this time.

If he is not speaking yet concerning 1956, they add, it is because he believes it too early to do so; that the party should indicate a preference rather than for an individual to push himself into the forefront.

TRIUMPH FOR SANITY

The stunning election victory of British Prime Minister Eden and his Conservative party makes more secure the future of the free world coalition at a time when stability and strength in the west are of paramount importance.

Under Sir Anthony's leadership, Britain will approach sanely the delicate problem of maintaining a posture of strength while being alert to every reasonable prospect of easing world tensions.

Under Eden, too, the British will cooperate earnestly and sincerely with the United States and yet show no mark of subservience.

The Prime Minister must be credited with having pulled off a shrewd gamble. The Conservatives could have retained power another year without an election. Sir Anthony chose instead to try to capitalize on Labor party divisions and other factors to win now a new five-year hold on the government.

Nearly every factor of consequence seemed to be tipped in Eden's favor. Britain is enjoying unexampled prosperity. It is closer now than at any time to regaining its old, solid economic stature in the world.

In the sphere of foreign affairs, they have the hope that Eden's acknowledged diplomatic skill and experience may help lead the west to some sort of settlement with the Soviet Union. Four-power talks appear definitely slated for this summer, and that assurance cannot have hurt the Conservatives at the polls.

In contrast, the Labor party is at its lowest ebb in many years. The six years it held power from 1945 to 1951 appeared to sap it of all imagination and inspiration. One may fairly say that the party today is bankrupt of new ideas and programs.

On the domestic scene, Labor could offer no more than a resumption of gradual nationalization of industries. There was no sign the British people had any faith such a course would maintain or extend their economic gains.

In foreign affairs, the most moderate elements of the Labor party undoubtedly would have followed a line close to the Conservative one. But in an effort to suggest important differences with their opponents, the Laborites recklessly drummed on fears of the H-bomb. In so doing they merely emphasized the emptiness of their own approach.

They were especially handicapped by the usual rantings of Aneurin Bevan, the party's left-wing leader. By mouthing anti-American sentiments at top lung power, he suggested strongly that a Labor party in power would not find it easy to cooperate with Britain's greatest ally, the United States.

The disrupted, mentally barren Labor party was found wanting by British voters. Instead they have put their fresh stamp of approval on a Conservative party that has proved itself in office and promises much for the future—a party that is enlivened by young blood, by vibrant imagination, and by a capacity for achieving stability while still moving ahead in an anxious world.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats are mousy quiet for a political party only 17 months away from the 1956 presidential election. If they have found one stirring issue to use against the Republicans next year, they haven't disclosed it.

Yet at this same time in 1951 the Republicans were clouting the Democrats with two issues which remained major through the next 17 months up to election day in 1952: the Korean War and alleged Communists in government.

There is no war now. The Democrats can't accuse the Republicans of not trying to get Reds out of government. Long ago President Eisenhower predicted his Republicans would work so hard on this problem it would not be an issue in 1956. He seems to have been right.

With few exceptions, congressional Democrats, the real party spokesmen when they have no chief in the White House, have been extremely placid. This might be interpreted as meaning the Democrats think they have a clinch in 1956. They probably think nothing of the kind.

If Eisenhower runs again, the Democrats' chances of losing look as good as in 1952. His popularity almost 28 months in the White House.

The Democrats, instead of trying to manufacture issues day by day, have given him extraordinary cooperation, particularly in foreign affairs. The question has been asked: How long will this go on? The Democrats may change their attitude. They haven't shown much sign of it yet.

They have backed Eisenhower from time to time: on lowering taxes, boosting postal workers' pay, on restoring inflexible price supports, on roadbuilding.

The Democrats could have ripped into the administration for its confusing handling of the anti-polio vaccine. Most didn't. Criticism on that delicate subject might have boomeranged.

The one thing they have harped on, in one way or another, is that they have saved Eisenhower from his own Republicans. These factors, more than any others, are probably responsible for the Democrats' strange quietness so late in the political season.

1. Eisenhower's personal popularity. They know that if they find something to hit him with, it had better be big, real and earnest. Petty attacks on him will look petty and may have a reverse effect.

2. The two parties' programs are not basically far apart anyway. And, since this is a time of great prosperity, the Democrats will have a time pointing up any great differences unless they can find issues of deep and stirring interest. Those issues have not appeared.

3. The Democrats, except for their party label, lack a central rallying point. Adlai Stevenson, regarded by some as the party chief, can hardly lay full claim to the title. He has said too little to provide leadership or direction.

At this time in 1951 the Republicans could rally around the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the acknowledged Republican leader in Congress. He gave the Republicans a sense of direction and difference from the Democrats, even though his party deserted him at election.

The Democrats in Congress have no comparable figure now.

Avoid Laxatives if You Have Suspicion of Appendicitis

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Although deaths from appendicitis have been greatly reduced in number they still occur; most of them could have been avoided.

If acute appendicitis is diagnosed early and the appendix is removed by surgery, there is little danger. However, much of the trouble comes because the pain may not be as severe as people expect it to be.

Consequently, they are too likely to ignore the symptoms for several days and by that time the appendix may have ruptured and resulted in peritonitis.

Once in a while the appendix, instead of lying near the front of the abdomen on the right side, may be twisted toward the back so the only symptom is back pain.

The appendix can lie in some other part of the abdomen also and it is not safe, therefore, to think that pain which is in the lower right side is the only kind which can mean appendicitis.

The Use Of cathartics or laxatives in the presence of abdominal pain is dangerous. A laxative causes the wave-like motions of the intestines to increase.

Large waves hasten the rupture of an acute inflamed appendix. When this happens peritonitis develops, a serious complication indeed.

Laxatives should be avoided like poison if there is the slightest suspicion of appendicitis. To some extent food and drink also increase the wave-like motions of the intestines.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The man who is trying to put a restraining hand on movie violence is square-built, English-born Geoffrey Shurlock.

Last year, the 60-year-old Shurlock succeeded Joseph Breen as Hollywood's production code administrator. He and his staff survey most scripts and all finished pictures and advise studios on censorship matters.

If films conform to the production code, they get a seal certifying them to be shown in American theaters. Rarely do producers try to sell movies without a seal. "The Moon Is Blue" was one of the few exceptions.

As Hollywood top censor, Shurlock tries to avoid the limelight. But because movie violence has become such a big issue, he granted an interview on the subject.

"We saw this coming last November," he said. "There was a notable increase in the amount of violence in scripts being presented. Those are the pictures that are in release now."

"We cautioned the producers that too much violence would bring a reaction from the public. I think we are making some headway in convincing them that violence should be toned down. But the results will not be evident in the theaters for another six months."

"One of the reasons I foresaw this trend toward violence was the Academy Awards. The top winners two years in a row were two extremely violent films — 'From Here to Eternity' and 'On the Waterfront.' It was inevitable that others would follow."

How does the code authority gauge the public's reaction to film content?

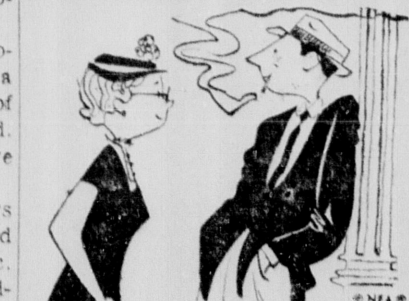

"The audience is our partner in this business," said Shurlock, veteran of 23 years with the code. "We watch the reaction carefully, through the Legion of Decency, the 13 women's groups that review pictures, the Protestant Film Council, plus the important trade and newspaper reviewers."

How does the code govern violence?

"We have no hard and fast rules. Rules would kill this industry. We can only do what Joe Breen suggested: 'Let's make pictures that are reasonably acceptable morally to reasonable people.'"

"All we knew was the street he lived on," she recalled. "So I started pushing strange doorbells. He didn't have his name on his doorbell, but I finally found him."

NEW YORK (AP)—In the antic-frantic world of television there are many odd jobs.

Pretty Mary A. Kelly, who is regularly kissed by a chimpanzee and recently rubbed noses with a $750,000 horse, has one of the oddest. She is a "guest finder."

Miss Kelly, a rugged, beautifully built young lady with Irish red hair and hazel-green eyes, is a feature editor and writer on Dave Garroway's "Today," an NBC network morning program. But one of her chief chores is to rout famous guests from their beds in time to appear on the show.

"Four out of five days I have to be up by 5 o'clock," said Mary. Usually she knows the night before the guest she is supposed to meet.

But sometimes the studio phones her at 4 a.m., to tell her she is to pick up Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at her hotel, go down the bay to get comedian Jerry Lewis off an incoming liner and steer him through customs, or race out to the airfield to meet a missionary just released from Communist China.

On one quest, finding the hotel elevator unattended, Mary stepped in and operated it herself, managing to hit the right floor after a few misses. On another, a hotel detective, seeing her sitting in the lobby, asked her mission, and Mary replied:

"Trying to pick up a guest."

This seemed to confirm the detective's worst suspicions.

"It took a phone call to the network to straighten that out," said Mary, laughing.

Miss Kelly, who started as a typist for a Hartford, Conn., insurance firm, came here at 19 and landed a job as a newspaper copy girl. Later she worked for a feature syndicate before going into television.

Only once has Mary let a guest get away. One morning she went to pick up Ava Gardner and found the film star had moved out the night before without leaving word of her new address.

Her toughest assignment was to find Alexander Kerensky, head of the Russian provisional government in 1917, the morning Premier Stalin died.

"All we knew was the street he lived on," she recalled. "So I started pushing strange doorbells. He didn't have his name on his doorbell, but I finally found him."

Big Need in Polio Murk Is Rebolstering Confidence

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—What's needed in the polio vaccine situation right now, says Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R-N.J.), is that "We have to build up the confidence of the people. If it is true that no vaccine is perfect, we have to let the people know this in such a way that they won't be upset."

This situation emerges as the House Interstate Commerce Committee under Rep. J. Percy Priest (D-Tenn.) began its investigations into where we are now and what to do next.

Technically the committee hearings are on a couple of new bills to give the Department of Health, Education and Welfare better control over similar emergencies arising in the future.

But after hearing Asst. Sec. Roswell Perkins pinch-hit for Sec. Oveta Culp Hobby, the committee forgot all about the bills. Instead, it went right to work trying to find out what had happened in the mix-up of the last six weeks.

"My Wife Told Me not to come home," said Rep. Arthur G. Klein (D-N.Y.) "unless I had the answers to these things."

Representative Klein had to go home without the answers. But Mrs. Klein's attitude is typical of the uncertainty of most people over the safety of polio vaccine and whether inoculations should be continued.

Surgeon General Leonard H. Scheele, head of the U. S. Public Health Service, has cleared up one point.

Many parents have the idea, he says, that one shot of Salk polio vaccine made children more subject to the disease.

This is not true, says Dr. Scheele. One injection will give more immunity than none. The second shot in two to six weeks will give more protection. And the third shot, seven months after the first, will give still more.

How long the immunity lasts, scientists don't yet know. But children who were inoculated two and three years ago still have antibodies in their blood to prevent the disease. If this immunity is not lasting, booster shots can be given later.

What has been largely forgotten in the rapid developments since the results of last year's tests with the vaccine were announced on April 12, is that 100 per cent immunity is not guaranteed. Indeed, it was never claimed.

There Were Two Major Tests last year on 1,829,916 children in 44 states. They were the largest tests of this kind ever conducted. By all past medical standards, they should have provided an adequate index to the vaccine's reliability.

In the first test the vaccine was found to be 60 to 80 per cent effective against Type I polio, 70 to 80 per cent effective against Types II and III. In the second test the vaccine was declared 60 to 70 per cent effective against Type I, 80 to 90 per cent against Types II and III.

So far this year, experience has been better than these percentages. But it is still too early to tell what the effective rate of prevention will be.

The 90-odd cases of polio reported so far among the five million inoculated children are after only the first shot. It will be necessary to wait till the end of the summer—the season of worst polio incidence—before the true percentage can be determined.

There is as yet no proof, says Doctor Scheele, that the 60 cases reported from children inoculated with vaccine prepared at the Cutter Laboratories got polio from the inoculation.

But It Takes 28 Days to run a serum test by inoculating a monkey and then making a tissue culture. It will be early June before the Cutter tests are concluded and a final judgement can be made.

As Dr. W. H. Schrell, director of the National Institute of Health explains it, each vial of the vaccine, prepared for physicians' use, contains doses for nine children. In no cases so far disclosed have two infections been traced to inoculations from the same vial.

The cases of polio that have developed in inoculated children thus far may have come from two causes.

First in coincidental infection. A child may have a low resistance to the disease. This child may have been infected close to the time of inoculation. Immunity from inoculation builds up slowly. The inoculation may not have acted fast enough to prevent the disease.

Second is massive infection. Polio epidemics break out in irregular patterns in unpredictable places. The cause of the disease is not known. A heavier infection in some areas could bring on an incidence of the disease that the immunity in first shots could not cope with.

For instance, the number of cases reported in California and Idaho, where the Cutter vaccine was used, has been higher than would normally have been expected at this season.

'Teens Love These Huge Chocolate Chip Cookies

King-size treats—jumbo chocolate chip cookies—are whipped up by Jane Tupper, Brooklyn, N. Y., for a teen-age snack feast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Let's ask a teenager what her crowd likes at a get-together. Jane Tupper, attractive and popular senior at Friends School in Brooklyn, N. Y., suggests that, to cap the climax at a party, you make giant-size chocolate chip cookies. It saves passing the cookie platter. Quarts and quarts of milk go with every teen-age party. By the guests' own choice. When Jane is serving more substantial refreshments, she features baby pizzas.

Jumbo Chip Cookies

One-half cup butter or shortening, 6 tablespoons granulated sugar, 6 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 egg, 11 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, few drops hot water, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Blend butter with sugars. Add egg, beat thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; add to mixture; mix well. Add a few drops of hot water and mix together until well blended. Stir in nuts, semi-sweet chocolate morsels and vanilla.

For 6 extra-large jumbo cookies from this batch, use about 1 cup batter for each cookie. Place on baking sheet; flatten with back of spoon to about 1-inch thick. Bake 3 cookies at a time in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. For 12 smaller jumbo cookies, use about 1 cup batter, baking 4 cookies at a time. Bake 10 to 12 minutes.

Party Pizzas (16 pizzas)

Eight English muffins, 1 stick butter or margarine (8 tablespoons), melted; 2 cans (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1 pound American or Mozzarella cheese, grated Parmesan cheese, oregano.

Cut English muffins in half and brush with melted butter or margarine, then toast until golden brown. Spread each muffin with a tablespoon of tomato sauce. Cover with slices of American or Mozzarella cheese. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and oregano.

Spoon a teaspoon of melted butter or margarine on each pizza. Bake in preheated oven (400 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:

Broiled ham steak, candied sweet potatoes, buttered Lima beans, bread, butter or margarine, sliced cucumbers, blackberry pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Money Is Less Important To Happy, Appreciated Wife

Memo to men:
If you want your wife to live happily on your income be sure that she knows you love, admire, and appreciate her.
You won't find that advice in any "how to manage your money" articles—but it's sound advice, just the same.
If a woman feels loved, needed and appreciated she can be happy with what she has, however little that may be.
But if she isn't sure of her husband's love she starts looking around for other ways of satisfying her ego.
She begins to want "things" in order to impress her women friends. She starts pushing her children, deciding that they must have all the so-called advantages so that they can make better lives for themselves than she did.
Not feeling loved, she grows discontented with her looks and decides that if she buys enough expensive clothes she will be better able to face the world.
IT ENCOURAGES EXTRAVAGANCE
Women who feel unloved often get socially ambitious. They decide that if they can get into and keep up with a certain group they will feel successful at last.
So the surest way in the world for a man to encourage his wife to be extravagant is to neglect to make her feel that she is loved and appreciated.
A woman may stick to a man who seems indifferent to her and unappreciative of all her efforts for many different reasons.
But while he may not lose his wife, his indifference is almost sure to cost him money.
Leaving romance entirely out of the picture, it is stupid from a financial point of view for a man to take his wife for granted.

Mrs. Murgatroyd Retires From Teaching Career

A teaching career of 38 years ended with the close of the school term this spring for Mrs. Jane Wright Murgatroyd, who for the past 30 years has been connected with the South Jacksonville school both as a teacher and principal before the consolidation of the school areas.

Mrs. Murgatroyd is a member of a well known Morgan county family and is a native of Murrayville where she spent her first year teaching in the Murrayville school after her graduation from high school. She later taught at the Ceres school in Greene county, then at the West Greasy rural school and still later at Sherman school, now the North Jacksonville area, before going to South Jacksonville.

A record of which she is justly proud is that she has not missed one day of school or a meeting of the Parent Teachers Association the South Jacksonville chapter being organized by Mrs. Murgatroyd in 1925.

Not forced but understanding discipline in the classroom is a trademark of pupils taught by Mrs. Murgatroyd, who has often been asked, "Why is it that children who frequently are discipline problems in the home behave so well in your classroom?" The retiring teacher's reply is, "Many parents, when besieged by questions have said to their youngsters, 'ask Mrs. Murgatroyd'."

"Parents have made their children believe that I know all the answers. Of course, I don't. But I have made a point of either supplying the answer or helping the child find it. When you help children solve their little problems they come back to you for help in solving their big ones. With respect to discipline the children have been quick to sense there is a time for play and fun, but also the importance of applying themselves to their classroom studies. It takes both to make a well adjusted child. They know I am all for a good time in the proper place, but that when we have a learning task to do I insist that their best efforts be applied for their own good. This consistency makes the child realize just where he stands and, hence, secure. I don't know what people mean when they talk about problem children, I NEVER HAD ONE."

Mrs. Murgatroyd will devote her time as a representative of the World Book Encyclopedia organization with which she has been associated over 30 years. Her headquarters will be Morgan county and extend into the surrounding area. For years Mrs. Murgatroyd has spent many summer months selling World Book sets and will now devote all of her time to this project.

B.P.W.C. PROGRAM JUNE 2 TO INCLUDE TWO JHS GRADUATES

Thursday evening, June 2, two recent Jacksonville high school graduates will be featured on the program of the regular dinner meeting of the Jacksonville Business and Professional Woman's club at the Dunlap hotel.

Charlene Smith will provide the music presenting among her numbers, "Sing On," the vocal number which she earned first class ratings in the district and state contests this spring. She will be accompanied by Judith Sorrells.

Carmen Olson will give a talk some of the ideas, ideals and aspirations of a 1955 high school graduate.

Illinois Chamber Of Commerce To Hold 'Workshop'

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce announced today an all-day "workshop" meeting on community development problems will be held Thursday, June 9, in the Hotel Jefferson in Peoria.

M. E. Skinner, vice president and director of sales for Union Electric Co. of Missouri, St. Louis, will address the luncheon session, the chamber said.

Discussions for the state-wide gathering will take up the analyzing of a community's industrial needs, plant location, community assets and liabilities, finding industrial prospects, industrial financing and proper industrial zoning.

The meeting is jointly sponsored by the University of Illinois, Illinois Chamber of Commerce Executives and the state chamber.

DR. R. H. ALEXANDER NAMED TO FACULTY

MacMurray College has appointed to its staff for the next academic year Dr. Robert Harold Alexander, who will be Associate Professor in the Department of Psychology, having particular responsibility for graduate work in that area.

Dr. Alexander was educated at Washington University in St. Louis, where he received his Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctorate degrees. The doctorate degree was awarded to him in 1953.

Dr. Alexander is especially interested in the problems of exceptional children, and has published several articles dealing with this subject. He belongs to Sigma Xi, Scientific Honorary Society.

JUDO STUDENT FORGETS A POINT

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Ruby Solomon, feeling pretty confident after a session of judo instruction with the sheriff's women's reserve, went home Tuesday and told her husband Ben:

"Swing at me."

Mrs. Solomon raised her left hand to ward off the blow, just as the judo teacher had indicated. Ben caught her with a haymaker and she realized that she had forgotten one thing—Ben is a south-paw.

State Legislature

Reapportionment
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The House - approved reapportionment plan crept a step closer Wednesday to final passage by the Illinois General Assembly.

The bill advanced to amendment stage in the Senate, reaching the mid-point of its journey through that branch of the Assembly. Under a constitutional mandate, the assembly is attempting to redraw the existing 51 legislative districts, each electing a senator and three representatives, into 58 Senate and 58 separate new House districts.

In the process, the rug must be pulled from under the feet of more than 30 incumbent lawmakers, nearly all of them anxious for reelection. A June 30 deadline for getting the job done heightens the pressure.

The House reapportionment bill was shunted past one Senate hurdle—consideration by the Reapportionment and Elections Committee—after the committee approved almost identical legislation originated in the Senate.

No sooner was it ordered placed on the calendar for floor action than an amendment offered by Sen. Morris E. Muhleman (R-Rock Island) was adopted bringing the House bill into perfect conformity with the Senate measure except for some minor technicalities.

The Muhleman amendment undid a reshuffle of three Senate districts in the northwestern part of the state written into the bill before it passed the house, thereby restoring it to its original form.

Unanimous in the House over reapportionment a bated some Wednesday when Rep. Charles Skyles (D-Chicago), who had threatened to tie up the house, said he changed his mind as a result of the concessions made to Smith.

In consideration of the Senate redistricting bill, the reapportionment committee rejected four amendments before voting a 15 to 0 endorsement, with Sen. William J. Connors (D-Chicago) recorded as present.

Minimum Wage
The House Wednesday pumped new life into a 75 cents an hour minimum wage bill which was facing strangulation in committee.

It refused to give similar consideration to a measure providing for a flat $10 annual automobile license fee coupled with higher state taxes on heavy trucks.

By an 87 to 34 vote, the House took away the minimum wage bill from the Committee on Industry and Labor Relations where it had slumbered since Feb. 8, the day after its introduction.

The auto-truck fee bill stayed bottled up in the Motor Vehicles and Traffic Regulations Committee when a motion to discharge the committee attracted only 52 favorable votes compared with 56 against.

Special Charities
Opponents in the House Wednesday lost out in an attempt to soften a bill stripping special charter school districts of some of their powers.

The measure (HB 889), authored by Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh, was advanced for passage vote later after rejection of amendments submitted by Reps. Robert Burhans (R-Peoria) and John W. Lewis (Marshall).

One of the bill's main provisions would transfer from boards of the 15 downstate special charter districts to county boards of school trustees the authority to pass on boundary changes.

The revision sought by Lewis would have permitted annexation or detachment of territory only with approval of a majority of members of both agencies.

In opposing this, Clabaugh said the Lewis amendment would "destroy" the bill.

He said the bill was prompted by "raiding" of some special charter districts on neighboring school units, and that it would merely bring their authority into line with powers of other type school districts.

The Lewis amendment was turned down 86 to 37, and Burhans' by a vote of 65 to 32.

Reject Sunday Closing
The House Executive Committee Wednesday rejected a bill to require Sunday closing of many wholesale and retail businesses. The committee voted 18 to 6 in recommending defeat of the bill.

OK Baby Care Program
The House Appropriations Committee Wednesday unanimously endorsed a bill setting aside $300,000 to continue the premature baby care program at three downstate centers.

Rep. Alan Dixon (D-Bellefonte), chief sponsor of the bill, sought $780,000 to expand the program to nine other hospitals but the committee reduced the amount.

The premature baby centers are located at St. Francis Hospital in Peoria, St. John's Hospital in Springfield and Christian Welfare Hospital in East St. Louis.

The federal government, which contributed virtually all of the funds for the program since its inception in 1943, is dropping it and the State Health Department recently announced the program was being discontinued in Illinois effective July 1.

Utility Tax
A bill to permit cities to establish a 5 per cent utility tax won approval Wednesday in the Senate Municipalities Committee by an 8 to 1 vote.

It is part of a program to aid cities devised by Gov. Stratton and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago.

Sen. William J. Lynch of Chicago, Democratic minority leader, who sponsored the measure, announced that Sen. George Drach of Springfield, GOP whip, would join him in sponsorship.

He added that a supplemental bill would be introduced Thursday. Lynch said this would permit affected utilities to petition the Illinois Commerce Commission for an automatic rate increase which would pass the tax to consumers.

Still undecided is the controversial question whether utilities may indicate on bills to customers that the added 5 per cent rate charge is caused by a tax increase imposed by cities. Lynch said the supplemental bill provides that utilities may so bill customers but said he would seek to have this eliminated.

Libel Suits
A bill changing the law dealing with civil libel against newspapers was advanced to passage stage Wednesday in the House.

By a voice vote, the members adopted an amendment to House Bill 439 permitting libel suits to be filed by a person in the county where he resides if the newspaper is circulated there.

Under the present law, newspapers can be sued for libel only in the county where they are published.

Rep. Carl Preihs (D-Pana), who offered the amendment, said the existing law amounts to "special privilege legislation" for newspapers. He said that "many members of the House have had scurrilous statements published about them by metropolitan newspapers."

Rep. William Pollack (R-Chicago) objected to Preihs' amendment. He said it would endanger freedom of the press and that small newspapers could be damaged by the measure.

The bill involves a rewriting of the Civil Practice Act. The Senate Wednesday heard a witness object to any constitutional amendment prohibiting a graduated state income tax.

The Senate met in a special committee of the whole to air views on a proposal to amend the state constitution's revenue article.

Both Democrats and Republicans are sponsoring the resolution which would permit classification of property for tax purposes. Like a similar 1952 resolution which voters defeated, it contains a specific prohibition against a graduated income tax.

Chicago Mayoral Candidates Say Run Cost $850,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The two main candidates for the Chicago mayoralty in April have estimated their campaign expenses and the total was more than $850,000.

Mayor Richard J. Daley said Tuesday his campaign expenses were between $450,000 and $500,000 for the primary and mayoralty elections. He said a statement that more than a million dollars was spent on his campaign was not correct.

The statement was made by Robert E. Merriam, defeated Republican candidate, who said $400,710 was spent by his campaign group.

Daley, a Democrat, defeated Merriam by more than 100,000 votes. The mayor's salary, formerly $18,000 a year, was increased to $25,000 shortly before Daley's election on April 5.

$90,000 GIVEN TO AID SURVIVORS OF KANSAS TORNADO

UDALL, Kan. (AP)—Private sources and organizations have contributed some $90,000 to aid survivors of Udall, the Kansas village wrecked last Wednesday by a tornado which caused heavy loss of life.

Joshua Logan, director of the movie "Picnic" being filmed at Hutchinson, Kan., gave $1,000. Motorists who visited the stricken town over the weekend chipped in $6,600. The Red Cross has earmarked about one million dollars in disaster relief money for the tornado area including Udall and Blackwell, Okla.

Argentines Clash With Police In Demonstration

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Roman Catholics demonstrating in support of the clergy in its conflict with the Argentine government clashed with police in four provinces Tuesday night. About 24 persons were reported jailed.

Such incidents are occurring almost daily as Catholic laymen continue staging street processions and distributing pamphlets backing the church in its seven-month-old quarrel with President Juan D. Peron's regime.

A new law passed May 19 to abolish religious education in public schools became effective with publication in the government bulletin today. It was signed by Peron May 23.

Classes in religion in public schools has been banned in Argentina for 57 years before their re-establishment soon after Peron came to power in 1946.

Congress also has passed a constitutional amendment separating church and state in Argentina and a law cancelling tax exemptions for churches and other religious institutions.

High Scholastic Record
John Grogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Grogan of Chillicothe, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner of this city, set a scholastic record at the Chillicothe high school. He graduated last Friday as a straight "A" student for all four years of his high school work, holding the highest grade average in the history of the school.

John has been given a four-year scholarship to Harvard university and has been chosen by the Kiwanis club as student of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Grogan were former Ashland residents, having been raised here.

Lutheran Circle At Chapin Names New Officers

The Mary Martha circle of St. Paul's Lutheran church at Chapin met May 26 at the church with the meeting opening with devotions conducted by the pastor, Rev. Marvin Matzke, who also presented the afternoon topic, The Church and the Home Working Together. A discussion followed.

Roll call was answered by 23 members telling of ways the home can help the church. The secretary and treasurer's reports were approved.

Motions were made and approved to buy shelves and liners for the church kitchen cupboards and drawers. The group also approved giving five dollars to the Lutheran Child's Welfare Association at Addison, to serve lunch at the circuit meeting of the church on June 12. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Leland Werries, Mrs. Edward Middendorf, Mrs. Otto Soake, Mrs. Paul Seivin, Mrs. Fred Lakamp and Mrs. Elford Detmer.

Mrs. Walter Uhken and Mrs. Paul Seivin gave a cash gift to the circle which they would like to have used to purchase some new linen covers for the church altar.

An election of officers was held with the following results: president, Mrs. Clarence Boatman; vice president, Mrs. Walter Uhken; secretary, Mrs. Gerhardt Boehs; assistant, Mrs. Carl Tiemann; treasurer, Miss Lorna Fricke; assistant, Mrs. William Nienhiser, Mrs. Walter Uhken, Mrs. Martin Staake and Mrs. Arlo Schumacher were appointed as members of the program committee for the coming year.

Very interesting highlights of the district L.W.M.L. convention were given by the delegates, Mrs. Walter Uhken and Mrs. Paul Seivin.

After the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Eugene Nienhiser, Mrs. William Nienhiser, Mrs. Fritz Schone. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Tillie Schone, Mary Middendorf and Terry Toppbeck.

Former Resident Of Chandlerville Wed In Sangamon

CHANDLERVILLE—The daughter of a Chandlerville couple, Miss Florence Viola Armstrong, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Armstrong, Sr., became the bride of Robert C. Isley of Springfield Sunday at the First Methodist church in that city. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jeanette Isley of Springfield.

The ceremony was conducted by the pastor of the church, Dr. A. Ray Trummon.

Attendants for the couple were Mrs. Louis Foster of Jacksonville, a sister of the bride, who served as matron of honor, and Miss Ruby Robinson and Miss Joanne Jackson, both of Springfield, who were bridesmaids.

John S. Isley of Springfield, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and Wilham H. Isley, another brother, and Edward R. Armstrong, Jr., brother of the bride from Jacksonville, were the groomsmen.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony.

The newlyweds will make their home in Springfield where the bride is employed in the metallurgical laboratory at Allis Chalmers manufacturing plant, the bridegroom in the purchasing department at the same company.

Greene-Scott Royal Neighbor Convention June 9

PATTERSON — The annual Greene-Scott County Royal Neighbor convention will be held in the Hillview Grade School gymnasium Thursday, June 9, with registration at 1:30 p.m. (CDT).

The regular business meeting of the convention will be conducted in the afternoon, followed by a program by the juveniles.

The officers elected for the coming year will be installed. The banquet, provided by the Hillview Camp, will be served at 6 p.m.

The evening session, starting at 8 p.m. will include introduction of officers, a special program, and musical work by the Patterson Camp.

All dinner reservations are to be made by June 4.

Class Trip Wednesday
May 31 was the closing day of school, and on Wednesday, June 1, the 7th and 8th graders and their teacher went to St. Louis where they visited Forest Park and other places of interest. They traveled by school bus, driven by Earl McEvers.

Teachers Rehired
All teachers have been rehired for the Patterson Grade School, with the exception of Mrs. Olive Cotter, who has accepted a position in the White Hall school system. Mrs. Cotter lives in White Hall but has taught in Patterson a number of years. Her place is being filled by Mrs. Florence Young of Glasgow.

The teachers and the grades they will teach are as follows: principal, C. K. Barnett, 7th and 8th grades; Miss Ella Black, 5th and 6th; Mrs. Florence Young, 3rd and 4th; Mrs. Lela Hubbard, primary, 1st and 2nd.

Personals
Mrs. Ruby McGlasson, of near Manchester, visited Sunday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dawdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bishop of Carrollton visited Sunday afternoon with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Steelman. Super guests in the Steelman home were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sellers and daughter, Linda, of near Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Steelman and sons of Roxana.

Sunday dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Dawdy were Mr. and Mrs. Delos Akers of Roodhouse, Miss Naomi Steelman of Barrow and Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Arnold and son, Keith, of Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jenkinson of St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kettell and children of Alton spent the weekend at their home here in Patterson.

Mrs. Fletcher Smith and daughter, Debbie, visited Sunday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Giber.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hornback of Collinsville spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Crabtree. Other Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Crabtree and son, Ronnie, of Morton and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crabtree and sons of near Hillview.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Karnes and son, Russell, Jr., of Kincaid spent from Thursday until Monday with her mother, Mrs. Anna McClenning and daughter, Gertie. Other visitors from Saturday until Monday were another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Nehrkorn of Savanna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bacon and sons, Robert Dean and Bradley, of Pekin spent from Saturday until Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson and her father, Charles Cowper. Other Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Cowper of Morton, Basil Kennedy and Larry, Judy, Jerrie, Reva and Randy Dawdy, all of White Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEvers and son, Stanley. Mr. Cowper returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Cowper for a visit in Morton.

Mrs. Lorraine Walter of Carrollton spent last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Edna Bushnell. She accompanied Miss Ella Black, of Carrollton, one of the local school teachers.

Miss Anita Dawdy, in nurse's training in Alton, spent Sunday and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dawdy and son, Bernard.

Sunday afternoon and evening callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson were Mr. Ell Wilkinson and daughter, Mrs. Rae Zern, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Krumery and daughter, Sarah Jane, all of East St. Louis, and

250 At Reunion Of White Hall School Alumni

WHITE HALL—The sixty-eighth annual meeting of the White Hall High School Alumni Association was held Saturday night, May 28, beginning with a banquet served by members of the Booster Club at the Methodist church at 7 o'clock. Table decorations were in maroon and gold, the high school colors, with gold covered boxes of red and gold carnations and daisies, gold candles decorated with gold ribbon and a red carnation centering the several long tables.

Two hundred and fifty members and guests attended the banquet. Howard Goff, band leader of the school, played piano music during the dinner hour. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nunes planned and placed the table decorations.

George Douglas Rhodes, president, presided and led the song.

"America" and the Pledge of Allegiance followed by the invocation given by Rev. James E. Maloney, pastor. Supt. Fred H. Shappard presented the class of 46 members to the association with President Rhodes giving the response and address of welcome to the class. Robert Ricks, president of the class, responded, which was followed by the business session, including the minutes of last year's meeting, treasurer's report, roll call of classes. Mrs. Ruth Coker, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers which were duly elected by acclamation for the ensuing year and include Mrs. Ethel Ross, permanent recording secretary; Russell McMahan, permanent treasurer; third vice president, Jeanie Chumley; second vice president, Rolin Day; first vice president, Lacy Lynn Collins; president, Billy D. McCarthy.

Mrs. Ross presented three members of the class of 1906, who were guests of the association, the two ladies, Miss Edith Chapin and Miss Olive Evans of Racine, Wis., the other member, made fitting remarks and told of amusing incidents when their class of 23 were in school together.

Waverly Students Gain Scholarships To Music Camp

WAVERLY—The scholarships to the Egyptian Music Camp at Du Quoin, for the week June 6 to 11, donated by organizations and individuals, were awarded to the following students of Waverly high school for their interest, progress and active participation in music throughout the year: Shirley Herford received the Waverly Woman's Club scholarship. She will enter band, chorus and piano. Joyce Mayes, Mrs. Wilson M. Smith scholarship. Enters chorus; Joanne Dippel, high school chorus scholarship. Enters chorus and piano; Sherry Treat, P.T.A. Scholarship. Enters chorus and band; Raymond Connolly, Band Boosters scholarship. Enters band and chorus; Loren Thomas, paying his own expenses. Enters band, chorus and orchestra.

Six students received the scholarships of $35 each. This pays all expenses for one week. They have the privilege of a week's training with outstanding directors, Warren Angell of Oklahoma Baptist University, and Floyd Wakeland, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, will direct vocal music. Paul Yoder, composer and director of chorus and F. C. Kreider, Collinsville High School band, will direct the massed band, a piano ensemble of some 40 talented pianists, using 20 new Kawai pianos. They will be presented in a concert at the end of the week. W. H. Beckmeyer, director of music at Mt. Vernon high school, will direct the ensemble, assisted by others.

There is daily supervised recreation and entertainment each night. Concerts are given on Friday and Saturday nights of each week in which all students take part.

The music departments of Waverly high school deeply appreciate the interest the organizations and individuals have in the progress of our students.

Make sure you eat the right foods...

Get more fun out of life

It takes energy to get the most out of living. But food authorities say one-third of what we eat today is "empty energy" food...food "empty" of vital nutrients—the proteins, vitamins and minerals found in the great protective foods...like energy-packed Sunbeam Bread.

No, all energy foods are not the same

Quick energy foods raise the blood sugar level but dip it sharply in a relatively short time. Energy so quickly burned by the body is just not there when you need it—that's why you get that hollow feeling or between meal slump.

But when you eat protective foods like Sunbeam Bread, your blood sugar level rises steadily and maintains a high level of energy for longer. Sunbeam Energy is here to call on when you need it.

Preaches Again At Pittsfield After 35 Years

PITTSFIELD—Dr. William Leslie of Brookline, Mass., was called here to officiate at the funeral for Mrs. Emma Wells, widow of Dr. Frank N. Wells, whose services were held on Sunday. Pastor of the Pittsfield Methodist church from 1915 through 1917, when he became pastor of the Centenary Methodist church in Jacksonville, he was called to St. Mark's Methodist church in Brookline two years later. He has served there continuously since.

He was invited to preach the sermon at the morning services Sunday, with the sanctuary filled to capacity to hear him, and hundreds who could not attend listening to him over the radio.

He prefaced his address by expressing his appreciation in being back in Pittsfield after an absence of more than thirty-five years, and spoke briefly of the many changes in the city, in the membership of the church and in the church building itself.

His theme was "Spiritual Vitamins." Vitamin "A," he said, is appreciation of the things about us and the wonderful age in which we live and the privileges we enjoy; vitamin "B-1," the Bible—food for the spirit; vitamin "B-2," beauty—in nature and in the lives about us; vitamin "B-3," belonging—to others as well as ourselves; vitamin "C," consciousness of God; vitamin "C-1," contact—with persons of other denominations and races, of all religious sects; vitamin "D-1," discipline—of daily duty and the need of work. "Life," he said, "is divine when duty is a joy."

Vitamin "D-2," he continued, is detachment—from worries and care; diversion and relaxation; vitamin "E," expectation—looking forward with pleasure and assurance; and vitamin "F," forgiveness—forgiveness of ourselves and of others and most of all asking for the forgiveness of God.

All agreed that it was a masterful sermon, eloquently delivered.

Dr. Leslie left for his home in the east Sunday evening.

Home Bureau At Glasgow Meets

GLASGOW—The Glasgow Home Bureau Unit held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Percie Overton on May 19 with eleven members present.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Violet Hobbs with group repeating the Lord's Prayer and Allegiance to the flag in unison.

The major lesson "Color in the Home" was given by our home adviser, Miss Graves, followed by the song, "America The Beautiful" by the group.

The minor lesson "Refreshing Drinks" was given by Mrs. Edith Jones.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Hester who also gave the treasurer's report. The Roll call, "Something I would like to learn from Home Bureau lessons," was answered by each member. The chairman read the "High Lights" of the board.

Recreation was led by Mrs. Edith Jones.

Lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Overton assisted by Mrs. Jones.

School Supper
There will be a pot luck supper at the Glasgow school Tuesday, May 31, at 7 o'clock (CST). The public is invited. A short program has been arranged.

Receives Letter
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sherwin are in receipt of a letter of Congratulations and best wishes from Gov. William Stratten and Mrs. Stratten in regard to their 58th wedding anniversary which they observed on May 16.

WEST UNION CHURCH ROLL CALL JUNE 5 NEAR MURRAYVILLE

MURRAYVILLE—Annual roll call at the West Union Baptist church located west of Murrayville, will be held Sunday, June 5. A basket dinner will be enjoyed at noon and the roll call program open at 2 p.m. in the afternoon.

Cut plain white cake, baked in a sheet pan, in strips. Frost top and sides of cake strips with this frosting. Cream 1½ cups confectioners' sugar with a couple of table-spoons of butter or margarine; blend in a table-spoon of lemon juice and two table-spoons of orange juice. A little grated orange rind may also be added if desired.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN GROUP ENTERTAINED BY MRS. CHAPMAN

Group 8 of The Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian church met recently at the home of Mrs. John Chapman, 1326 West State Street. A potluck supper was served at 6:30 p.m.

After supper, Mrs. Gerald Kuster conducted the meeting. The treasurer, Mrs. Howard Brown, reported that the group had completed its work for the year.

Mrs. Lorene Ray presented the worship service based on Psalms 34, verses 1 through 15.

The remainder of the evening was spent on picture booklets of Jacksonville to be sent to church members who are serving their country abroad.

This was the last meeting of the group for the current year.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Meets In Petersburg

The regular dinner meeting of the Gamma and Xi Alpha Upsilon chapters of the Beta Sigma Phi was held recently in the Mary Todd room at the Salem Lodge at Petersburg. Following the meal Mrs. Betty Hamilton installed new officers in the Gamma chapter.

Taking over new duties are: president, LaVerne Boruff; recording secretary, Betty Taylor, and the corresponding secretary, Mildred Brown. The vice president, treasurer and officers of the Xi Alpha Upsilon chapter will be installed at a later date as they were unable to attend the dinner meeting.

Representatives for the Beta Sigma Phi City Council from the Gamma Chapter are: LaVerne Boruff, Virginia Carlson and Addie Wolke. Representatives from the Xi Alpha Upsilon chapter are Betty Hamilton, Mary Margaret Withee and Peg Broekel.

Those present were indeed pleased to have as their guest Mrs. Robert Horner, who is international honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Horner invited members of both chapters to visit her beautiful home at White Oaks, Petersburg, on June 12.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Marian Chase Schaeffer, social sponsor, Wilma Nichols, Martha June Sob, Margaret Broekel, Marie Ramage, Mabel German, Mildred Frisch, Helen Vieira, Betty Taylor, LaVerne Boruff, Mildred Brown, Wilma Simmons, Della Simmons, Elaine Presvelos and Marian May.

Some Of Jap Soldiers Still Hiding Out In Pacific Hills

HONOLULU (AP) — Some of the Japanese soldiers who took to various Pacific hills during World War II are still there. From the looks of things, they know the war is over but still prefer the hills.

Since 1945 an estimated 32 Japanese army stragglers have been flushed out of jungle hideouts in the Philippines, New Guinea, Guam, Saipan and Anatahan in the Marianas. Most of them claimed they didn't know the war was over.

Japanese government officials in Tokyo believe about 50 more are still hiding out in the Philippines, Guam and New Guinea.

But the belief is growing that these remaining holdouts know full well the war is over. They must know, too, that they have little to fear in the way of punishment or reprisals.

"Maybe they've heard too much about the world outside," a Navy official at Pearl Harbor theorized. "Maybe they prefer the jungle to civilization in the atomic age."

Japanese welfare ministry officials working through U. S. military commanders have scattered thousands of leaflets telling stragglers throughout the Pacific the war is over.

In one operation in Guam alone 15,000 handbills were dropped from planes and distributed by foot parties in possible holdout areas in 1953.

The Philippine air force is about to drop another 10,000 leaflets, books and letters asking holdouts on Lubang Island to surrender.

In the Philippines and Guam a holdout would have to be deaf, blind and exceptionally stubborn to miss the evidences of bustling peacetime activity.

"The lack of gunfire alone over 10 long years should convince any die-hard the war is over," an official on Guam said.

The first two Japanese stragglers who came out of hiding on Guam in April, 1948 waved a no-nonsense 1947 copy of an American magazine as they hailed a passing patrol jeep.

The magazine carried a picture of Emperor Hirohito parading under guard of American MPs.

In 1951 eight stragglers were flushed out of the hills of Guam. One of them said he had found a U. S. magazine in a dump. It showed a map of Korea with U. S. and Allied flags on one side and the sickle and hammer on the other.

There are no available estimates on the number of Japanese soldiers who took to the hills after V-J day. Reports from captured stragglers, however, indicate that many of the original holdouts died of tropical diseases.

Many were killed, some in evading capture, others by native tribesmen and a few by other Japanese holdouts.

Most of the survivors were in good physical condition when captured. Many had shown remarkable adaptability to primitive conditions.

Two shabby stragglers walked out of the Guam jungle in April 1948. They were clean shaven and their clothes were patched.

On Sept. 27, 1951, a Japanese sauntered out of another Guam jungle and hailed a military bus. He was dressed in a loin cloth, carried a small bundle of possessions and appeared in fine condition.

Available figures show 10 holdouts captured in the Philippines since the war, 10 more on Guam, 6 on Anatahan, 4 in New Guinea and 2 on Saipan. One was killed on Guam and another in the Philippines.

Those still hiding out appear to be concentrated in Guam, New Guinea and Minanao and Lubang in the Philippines.

There are at least two eclipses of the sun visible someplace on earth every year.

TREMBLECHIN HAD TO WORK LATE -- AND IODINE ASKED THIS ONE SIMPLE QUESTION AS TO HIS WHEREABOUTS...

SO HENRY GETS HOME A LITTLE AFTER ELEVEN -- AND HOW DOES EFFIE RETELL IODINE'S THREE LITTLE WORDS?

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

THE STORY: Unwillingly Private Detective Michael Shayne has helped a fugitive, Jack Bristow, escape arrest for murder. He phones police anonymously giving the suspect's name and stating that Bristow has been wounded. When Police Chief Will Gentry calls on Shayne and his secretary, Lucy Hamilton, Reporter Tim Rourke covers up for Shayne.

MI

MICHAEL SHAYNE grimaced sourly and growled, "All right, Bright-eyes. That was fast thinking when you grabbed the phone in front of Will, though not really necessary. We're not hiding anything. Not much, anyhow," he amplified with a glance at Lucy.

She smiled back at him with an effort. "I'm afraid I've got you in an awful mess, Michael. Though I still swear I can't make myself believe Jack Bristow can be guilty of anything like murder."

"An old boy-friend of Lucy's," Shayne explained to Rourke with a shrug. "He never strangled her, and she refuses to believe he'd got that far with any other woman."

Timothy Rourke dropped onto the divan beside her and covered one hand with his. "Don't pay too much attention to Mike. He's sore and jealous, but when it comes to a showdown he'll be riding out in front of you like a knight on a white charger."

Lucy smiled miserably at him. "I've got him in a horrible mess, Tim. You see, Jack did come here to hide from the police. And I didn't tell Michael. I was afraid..."

"Let me do the talking, Angel," Shayne cut in sharply. "Don't go off half-cocked on any of this. Lucy hadn't seen Bristow for years until he busted in on her a couple of hours ago with a slug hole in his stomach and needing help. She didn't know it was murder, but she did refuse to cover up for him, and tried to call me."

Shayne broke off to gesture at the telephone. "He jerked the cord loose when she tried to phone me, then locked himself in her bedroom. I showed up just then," Shayne went on, improvising swiftly, "and before she could tell me about it, this Sergeant Loftus and his goon squad came charging in and got me sore. So I kicked them out without knowing Bristow had been here, and I admit I felt like a fool when Lucy told me a minute later that he was here. I broke down the door," Shayne went on swiftly, "but it was too late anyhow. He'd got out the window and down the fire escape in the meantime. They were already onto him being in this building and I saw no reason to drag Lucy into it by telling her part when it was too late to do any good. That's all there is to it."

ROURKE'S black eyes were fever-bright. "But you did make that call in to give his name and description?"

"Sure," Shayne conceded readily. "It was too late to do anything else by that time. If the fool hadn't dropped the slip of paper with Lucy's name, she'd never have come into it. And by the time we knew about it, it was too late to start telling Will Gentry the truth."

Lucy avoided meeting Shayne's eyes because she didn't dare let him see the gratitude shining in hers.

"How badly was Bristow hurt, Lucy?" Rourke asked after a moment.

"I honestly don't know. It was his side right here," She indicated the spot beneath her ribs with a forefinger. "It wasn't bleeding much outwardly and he seemed pretty good. He claimed that call in to give his name and description?"

Battling Dancer Taken From House On Public Land

CHICAGO (AP) — A battling, gun-toting ballet dancer has been bounced from her little three-room fortress home on public land.

For a year shapely Lenena Davis, 32, had stood off officials, aided by her pistol and three Afghan hounds.

But Tuesday the Sanitary District moved her out of her house along the Des Plaines River in suburban Summit, dumped her belongings by the side of the road, and burned the house to the ground.

"I didn't even have a chance to wash my face," Miss Davis said mournfully.

The Sanitary District, which owned the land and rented the house to Miss Davis, said it needed the land to complete a railroad spur line to be used for dumping sludge.

There was no gunplay Tuesday. But district officials, mindful of the pot-shots Miss Davis took at an employee who attempts to go on the land in August, sent three policemen to do the ousting.

When the officers showed up, aided by John Van Ort, chief of police in Summit, three Summit patrolmen, two state policemen and constable Walter Dudek, Miss Davis was barefooted and wearing blue jeans and a red jacket. She said she had sold her pistol.

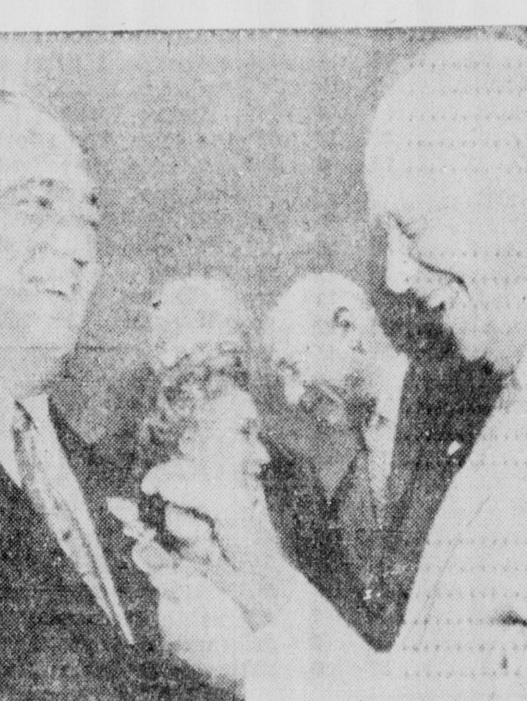

Two state policemen held her as she kicked and flailed. However, she finally packed her belongings, climbed barefooted into her 1950 Chevrolet sedan and buzzed away.

District employees splashed oil on the house and burned it to the ground.

The Afghan hounds were turned over to the Animal Welfare League.

Santee Denies Getting Excessive Expenses; Officials To Check

By BOB MEYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Running star Wes Santee of Kansas was given the go-ahead signal to compete in the Compton Invitational Track and Field meet Friday night by the local AAU officials Wednesday. The matter of any expense money problems remains something for his own Missouri Valley AAU Assn. to handle.

Larry Houston, registration chairman of the Southern Pacific AAU, made the announcement Wednesday as Santee, America's premier miler, emphatically denied published charges that he has been collecting excessive expense money for meets in California.

Houston issued a formal statement after a meeting of his committee. It read:

"Because Mr. Wes Santee is a registered athlete in the Missouri Valley Assn. of the AAU, and has been traveling under proper authority of that association, with copies of the travel permits on file in the local office, the Southern Pacific Assn. of the AAU has no jurisdiction in this matter.

"Initiation of any action relative to the alleged receipt of expenses over and above those permitted by the rules and regulations of the National AAU must be taken by the association in which the athlete is registered.

"As of now, no formal allegations or complaints of the nature as listed in the San Francisco newspaper have been received in the local AAU office from any sponsor of the events in this area in which Wes Santee has competed or will compete."

The controversy originated in San Francisco when a newspaper—the Chronicle—printed a story that said Santee would receive about $3,000 in expenses for five races in California within a month.

Soon reports began to trickle in from various points . . . Los Angeles, Fresno and Modesto, where Santee has performed this month. . . and Compton, where he is slated to race Friday night, and Stockton, where the Kansas athlete is booked for June 10.

And from suburban Glendale, where Santee is stopping with a friend, the miller declared:

"To my knowledge, that figure ($3,000) is entirely erroneous. I have done nothing, as far as I know, to jeopardize my amateur standing. I have been working with AAU officials all the time."

Willis O. Hunter, director of the recent Coleman Relays, laughed at the published report that Santee received $1,000 for competing here May 20.

He said Santee was paid only $350, which included air transportation.

The $350 figure led to a curious parade of expense amounts paid by the various meet sponsors.

Herschel Smith, director of the Compton Invitational Meet coming up said that Santee was being paid only $1250 a day "for four days"—$50—plus air transportation from Kansas.

Plint Banner, director of the West Coast Relays at Fresno, said Santee was paid $450 for his appearance there May 14. And Banner later announced that he had written Santee asking for a refund of $72.15 because that was money advance for plane fare for Mrs. Santee and Mrs. Santee did not make the trip.

Julius Koenigsdorf, Missouri Valley AAU registration chairman, said at Kansas City that he does not have the figures on Santee's expenses since none of the completed travel permits for the Fresno, Los Angeles and Modesto meets had been turned in by the athlete as yet.

These permits must be turned in with a breakdown of the expenses. The chairman said he had written Santee this morning, asking him to return the permits as soon as possible.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

A very successful local baseball season produced four .400 hitters as the final batting averages for the four local schools were announced yesterday. JHS's Danny Woodward, using Willie Keeler's "hit 'em where they ain't theory," produced the highest average in town as he collected 19 hits in 41 trips to the plate for a .463 mark. The other high school player hitting above the .400 mark is Routt's Jackie Long. The Rocket sophomore connected for 15 hits in 36 trips for a .417 average. IC had two .400 hitters with left fielder Don Hazelrigg pounding out 26 safeties to lead the team in total hits. Don wound up the season with an even .400.

Bob Kraushaar's Crimsons added a little spice to the rumor that baseballs are becoming more lively. No fewer than seven Crimsons ended the season above the .300 mark. Following Danny Woodward was brother Jim who hit .396. Bill Sann had a .350 while Rich Fernandes, Bill Lewis, Larry Scott and Jack Fairfield all ended above the coveted .300 mark. Besides having identical .320 batting marks, JHS hurlers Lewis and Scott finished with the same 5-1 records while dividing the pitching duties.

Coach Al Miller's Blueboys had two .300 hitters to go with their 4-0 batters. Pitcher Gene Farmer and outfielder Bill Kaufmann hit .340 and .320 respectively to help lead the IC nine to a late season spurt which carried them through the final seven games without a defeat. Farmer received credit for eight of the Blueboys' nine victories.

The Illinois School for the Deaf Tigers had four .300 hitters with all-around athlete Jack Rampley setting the pace with a .361 mark. Bob Harrell followed close behind with a .351 average while Lamot Kleot had 13 for 39 and George Kuttick hit .308 for coach "Potsy" Clark's PMBC entry.

Long's .417 mark was followed by Reggie Doolin's .346. The unusual thing about coach Jim Smarjeske's Routt team is three out of the first four hitters are below a Junior in school. Long, Tommy Regan and Joe Pagano, who finished one-three-four in the batting derby, are in the first two years in school.

Arroyo Cops 6th As Cards Jar Pirates 6-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Unbeaten southpaw Luis Arroyo recorded his sixth victory Wednesday night as he gave up only five hits in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-2 victory over the cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cardinals backed on Arroyo with a 12-hit attack. Ken Boyer and Bill Virdon led the hit parade, each getting three safeties.

A three-run third inning gave the Cards the victory and hung the fifth defeat on starter Bob Purkey. He has won two.

In the first inning Red Schoendienst singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Bill Virdon's single.

The Cards scored again on the second as Boyer reached first on a fielder's choice, stole second and tallied on a single by Arroyo.

In the third, after two R's, Purkey gave up a walk to Rip Repulski, a single to Bill Sarr and a run scoring single to Boyer.

HAWKS SIGN RICKETTS
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn. Wednesday announced the signing of Dick Ricketts, basketball star at Duquesne University the past two years. Ricketts was the Hawks' first choice in the recent pro basketball draft.

Don't Intend To Let Feller Go: Greenberg

CLEVELAND (AP)—The fact that Bob Feller's name appeared on a waiver list doesn't mean a thing, said General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians Wednesday.

"Bob Feller has no desire to leave the Cleveland club and we have no intention of letting him go," the Tribe boss said in an interview with Ed McAuley of the Cleveland News.

Several days ago it became known that a waiver list issued to other American League clubs by the Indians contained the names of Feller, Ralph Kiner, Vic Wertz and Art Houtteman.

Greenberg said he has protested to William Harridge, president of the league, over what he termed a "leak" of those names. The lists are supposed to be confidential, to be seen only by club officials.

The general manager said he has been getting telephone calls, and said the callers "naturally don't understand the workings of the waiver system. They want to know why we're getting rid of a great pitcher and a Cleveland institution. I assure them nothing is further from our thoughts."

He said everyone on the club, including Al Rosen, Bob Lemon and all the others, have been on the waiver list at one time or another. Did this mean we were trying to sell them at $10,000 each, or any other price? Of course not.

Greenberg did not go into details on how the waiver system actually works.

McAuley, however, explained some of the uses to which it is put. If a club wants to trade an outfielder, for example, it puts his name on a waiver list along with Feller and three or four other "decoys." If anyone is foolish enough to "claim" Feller, his name is quickly withdrawn, of course. If anyone "claims" the outfielder, his name is withdrawn too—but then the clubs get down to bargaining for a trade. The "decoys" are simply to disguise which player is on the market.

Indians Defeat Orioles 5-0; Wynn The Winner

CLEVELAND (AP)—Burly Early Wynn pitched a four hit shutout and Al Smith hit a two-run homer Wednesday night as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 5-0.

Wynn, strong at the start despite an early season pneumonia attack, did not allow a hit until the sixth inning when Eddie Waitkus singled with two out.

Cleveland scored three times in the first inning on a walk to Smith, singles by Bob Avila, Al Rosen and Dave Pope and a grounder by Dave Phillips.

Smith's eighth homer of the year came when Wynn walked in the second.

Wynn, firing in the late innings, allowed singles to Hal Smith and Jim Pihurn with two away in the seventh but then made Willie Miranda pop to shortstop Sam Dente.

Waitkus singled and Cal Abrams walked in the eighth, but Wynn got out of that when Gene Woodling fouled to Smith at third base.

Before Waitkus hit his single in the sixth, Wynn looked all but untouchable. He retired the Orioles in the first, second and fifth innings and the two men who got to first in the third and fourth innings were walked.

White Sox Nip Boston 4-3
CHICAGO (AP)—Sherman Lollar's three-run homer in the seventh to tie the score and Chico Carrasquel's run-producing single in the eighth Wednesday night gave the Chicago White Sox a 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Boston's Ted Williams went hitless in four trips.

Carrasquel's game-winning blow, his third hit of the game, came at the expense of Ellis Kinder. The veteran relief artist had come to the rescue of starter Tom Brower, who walked Jim Rivera to start the inning. A sacrifice and infield out moved Rivera to third and he scored when Carrasquel's hard-hit ball to deep short could not be handled in time by Billy Klaus.

Winning pitcher was Sandy Consuegra, who entered the game in the eighth after starter Dick Donovan was forced to retire. Donovan was hit on the right shin, just above the foot, by his own foul ball.

Williams struck out once—his first whiff since returning to the game. But he provided the fielding gem of the night with a leaping catch against the wall of a drive by Lollar.

Successful singles by Sammy White, Klaus and Grady Hatton scored the first Boston run in the fifth and Klaus then moved around to the plate on a pair of infield outs.

In the sixth Klaus sliced a double past third to score Harry Agganis, who had singled, from second.

The White Sox tied it on Lollar's eighth homer of the year with two on base in the seventh. Bob Nieman survived on a wild throw by Klaus and Carrasquel beat out an infield hit to set the stage for Lollar's blast into the lower stands in left field.

Redlegs Defeat Giants 5-2 Behind Nuxhall

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Nuxhall pitched a five-hitter and Ted Kluszewski hammered his 14th home run as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the New York Giants 5-2 Wednesday.

Nuxhall had a four-hit shutout until the ninth inning when Willie Mays followed a walk to Don Mueller with his 13th home run of the year off the left field scoreboard. Successive walks to Hank Thompson and Ray Katt with two out in the ninth put Nuxhall in a jam but the left-handed retired southpaw pinch hitter Whitey Lockman on a soft fly to Gus Bell in short center to end the threat. It was Cincinnati's first victory over the Giants in four starts this season.

Jim Hearn started for the Giants and was tagged with his fifth defeat although he pitched creditably until taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. The big right-hander gave up only two runs on six hits, one of them being Kluszewski's sixth inning four-bagger over the right field roof.

The Reds got what proved to be their winning runs with Windy McCall, a left-hander, on the mound. Bell tripled in the ninth and scored Cincinnati's third run on a sacrifice fly by Stan Pallys. McCall walked Adams and McMillan drove a ball into the left field seats to make it 5-0.

State High School Baseball Tourney Begins Today

PEORIA Ill. (AP)—East St. Louis and Peoria Central are co-favorites in the eight-team finals of the Illinois high school baseball tournament Thursday and Friday.

The tourney is lacking a defending champion, last year's winner, Belleville, having succumbed in sectional play.

Only holdovers from last year are Peoria Central and Anna-Jonesboro. Thursday's opening game at 2:30 p.m., CST, pits Big 12 champion Decatur (16-3) and North Chicago (17-3), a new high school with its first team.

At 3:30 p.m., East St. Louis (20-1) meets Peoria Central (26-2). In Thursday evening's first round games, Anna-Jonesboro (10-5) faces Schurz of Chicago (19-3) at 7 p.m., and Galesburg (17-5) poses Joliet (14-4) at 9 p.m.

Semi-finals will be held Friday afternoon with the championship game scheduled at 8 p.m., Friday night.

In addition to North Chicago, Schurz with its first Chicago Public League title since 1924, and Joliet will be making their debut in the state finals.

Anna-Jonesboro's record is the poorest of the eight finalists, but the southern Illinois team went to last year's finals, stumbling before Bowen of Chicago, 4-1.

Galesburg and Joliet hookup with Hod Johnson (11-2) opposing the Steelmen's Knew Glasgow (7-0).

LOS ANGELES
VOTERS REJECT PARK BOND ISSUE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Despite prolonged clamor for big league baseball in Los Angeles, voters have firmly rejected a proposed 4½ million dollar bond issue for a new park.

There was little enthusiasm for the issue. Opponents argued that a major league franchise would be operated by private interests and the public should not be asked to carry the financial burden of building the park.

Complete semi-official returns of Tuesday's general municipal election showed the park issue, which passed a two-thirds majority to pass, did not get even a simple majority. The measure was defeated 160,167 to 131,804.

Register Today, Friday For Elk's Boys Baseball

There's still time for boys in the Jacksonville area to register and try out for the Elk's Boys Baseball program for the summer. Director Paul Blakeman announced yesterday team try outs will be conducted today and tomorrow on the South Diamond and Morton baseball field.

At 1:00 this afternoon the eight year olds are scheduled to report for team try outs. The nine year olds will report at 2:00, the 10 year olds at 3:00 and the 11 and 12 year olds at 4:00. This same schedule will be followed tomorrow, Friday.

At 6:15 this evening the Cubs meet the Giants in twilight practice action. Friday's game at 6:15 finds the Dodgers and Cards tangling.

The first scheduled game will be at 6:15 Monday, June 6. An auction will be held for team managers at 10:00 a.m. Saturday morning at the Elk's Club for purchasing of players for twilight league play. A regular schedule will be followed next week.

Weekly and daily schedules will appear in this paper and the player and team assignments will appear in Sunday's paper.

Equipment
This year the Elk's Club will furnish only baseballs, bats, catching equipment and bases. They will also furnish uniforms for the Twilight League and 3:15 League and caps for the minor leagues.

The team managers for the season are: Cards, Lyndell Symons; Cubs, Wilfrid Rice; Dodgers, Howard DeGroot and Giants, Clint Arenz.

Yanks Take Two From Athletics 3-1 And 6-1

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The New York Yankees got a 2-hit pitching job from young Johnny Kucks Wednesday to defeat the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 and Whitey Ford made it a sweep with a 7-hit, 6-1 winning performance in the second game of a day-night doubleheader.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds improved Wednesday, but the corporate bond market was irregular.

Railroads and industrials tended to lose ground as "Big Board" volume increased to $4,330,000 par value from $3,540,000 Tuesday. Utilities were mostly higher and convertible obligations were erratic.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Powerful cross-currents of buying and selling swept the stock market into a highly mixed price pattern Wednesday.

It was the third session of indecisive movement by the market and virtually brought to a halt the two-week recovery that followed the reaction from the April 26 record highs.

Selling was centered in aircrafts and tobacco issues while a lower tendency was found in steels, motors, coppers, chemicals and utilities.

Railroads and airlines carried the burden of market firmness and they had helped from the rubbers, mail order houses and many issues with a specialized appeal.

The market was mixed at the start and then managed some improvement with rails and airlines doing their best to spread their buying through the rest of the market.

Near the close, however, selling all over the list brought the best prices down and sent many over to the minus side while widening the losers.

Aircrafts have been under pressure following a stretch-out in government defense orders in some plants and congressional committees started the ball rolling in profits probes.

Tobacco shares dipped on a renewal of the discussion of cancer and smoking habits.

The rails and airlines have been popular with brokers who stress earnings. Many brokers are becoming highly selective in their recommendations and some individual issues can trace their popularity to such buying suggestions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cents at $164.80 with the industrials off 40 cents and rails up 40 cents while utilities backed down 10 cents.

The list contained 1,172 individual issues, the same as Tuesday, and there were 455 gainers and 478 losers balancing each other. Sixty-four stocks hit new highs and 12 touched new lows for the year.

Volume expanded to 2,510,000 shares was compared with 1,990,000 shares Tuesday.

Eggs steady; receipts 27,153; wholesale buying prices unchanged; U. S. large whites 60-69 per dozen A's 34; mixed 33.5; dirties 27.5; checks 24.5; current receipts 28.5.

FEED GRAINS STEADY, OTHER GRAINS LOSE

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Feed grains held steady but the rest of the grain market wound up with losses on the Board of Trade Wednesday. Trading progressed at a somewhat faster pace than in recent sessions.

Soybeans were weak throughout the session and at the finish had losses running to four cents. Rye firmed early, holding gains of more than a cent at one time, but fell rapidly on profit taking in the last hour. Wheat retreated after issuance of the weekly crop report.

Wheat closed 1/4 higher, corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, rye 1/4 to 2 cents lower, soybeans 1/4 to 4 cents lower and lard 13 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower.

In the morning wheat inched higher on the absence of any important moisture in the wheat territory overnight and an offer by the Commodity Credit Corp. to purchase 230,000 bushels of red wheat held in storage at terminals.

The latter action inaugurated the CCC's swapping program, the agency having sold 235,000 bushels of wheat at country warehouses.

Selling increased after the Weather Bureau put out its weekly crop summary, easily the most optimistic of the current growing season. It noted that, as a result of May rains, "prospects have materially improved over practically all of the eastern two-thirds of the country, including the western Great Plains."

Soybeans again met liquidation and hedging, being influenced in part by renewed weakness in soybean oil and meal futures. In the cash market bean meal was off again and at $50.00 to $50.50 a ton was at another new five year low. A year ago at this time bean meal sold at $82.00 to $83.00.

Probably the main reason for the steady tone in feed grains was that they were not subjected to the selling pressure of present in other futures. Cash corn receipts were small and prices advanced 1/4 to 1/2 cent in the spot market.

Lard futures eased in sympathy with general weakness in fats and oils.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—Most butchers gained 25 cents while some sold steady to strong in a moderately active trade Wednesday.

A short deck of choice butchers reached $19.75, best price recorded in Chicago since Nov. 22, 1954. This was still far under a year ago, however, when the top was $27.50.

Buyers paid $18.50 to $19.50 for most choice 160 to 220 pound butchers, $17.50 to $18.50 for 230 to 260 pounders and $16.25 to $17.25 for 270 to 300 pounders. Sows sold from $12.00 to $15.75. Salable receipts were in line with expectations at 9,000 head.

Most classes of cattle sold at steady quotations as producers cut shipments to 9,500 head, 3,500 under the advance estimate. One prime load of steers set the top at $25.50. Heifers topped at $23.25.

Buyers paid $21.75 to $23.00 for choice steers and $18.50 to $22.75 for good to high choice heifers.

Utility and commercial cows moved at $11.25 to $14.50 and canners and cutters at $9.00 to $12.50.

Vealers sold steady to $1.00 higher at $19.00 to $23.00 for most good and choice. A few head of choice and prime reached 24.00.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 2,000. Lambs and sheep held steady. Good and choice shorn lambs brought $17.50 to $19.00. Good to prime native springers sold at $23.00 to $24.25.

29 Jacksonville Boys Head Down To Dixie

Civil war battlefields will move out of the pages of history before the eyes of 29 Jacksonville Boy Scouts who left Wednesday morning in five cars for a tour of the deep South.

Vicksburg, Stone Mountain, Lookout Mountain, and other historic places will be visited by Scout Troop 107, sponsored by Grace Methodist church. The grounds over which Americans fought and died at Chancellorsville and Shiloh also are on the route of the tour.

From this city the Scouts headed for New Orleans, La. They will see where the battle of New Orleans was fought in the War of 1812. Other points of interest along their route will be the Bessemer steel mills in Alabama; Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala. Mobile Bay, Pensacola, Fla., and Gulfport, Miss. Each boy will do his own cooking and camping chores. The Scouts will swim in the Gulf of Mexico and take a boat excursion in New Orleans harbor.

Joe Grojean, Junior Davis Meyer, and John Linebaugh are in charge of the long journey, assisted by Walter Hamilton and Howell Hitt. Boys making the trip are Eagle Scouts Jim Whitlock, John Hamilton, Jim Walker, Fletcher Hopper, Ivan Dunn, and Tom Schuetz.

Patrol leaders include Bill Sanders, Bill Hitt, Ravid Bone, Bill Thomson, and Dick Barton.

Garden Club Flower Show Draws Hundreds

By LOUISE STRANDBERG

Flower lovers expressed their true appreciation of the beauties of nature in the excellent response in attending the two-day Flower Show sponsored Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29, by the Morgan County Garden club at the YMCA Youth Center on West State street.

The many beautiful flowers so artistically arranged attracted all ages. Mrs. Fred Carter, chairman of the ticket sales, reports a fine response. Chairmen of the show and members of the Garden club feel it was their most outstanding achievement in Flower Shows to date.

There were many classifications, with exhibits being open to both members of the club and non-members. Chairmen of the show were Mrs. Alvin Middendorf and Mrs. Vernon Schofield.

Each table was a classification in itself with the various arrangements pertaining to the respective description. Exhibitors displayed unusual skill in arranging their assigned flower, vine or shrub.

An all white table was especially beautiful; still another exhibited containers to be used on a hall table or chest; arrangement where a low appearing bouquet is necessary; still another for a large or massive arrangement offered the visitor every possible suggestion for future appliance of the valuable ideas on display.

Mrs. Courtney Crouch Wright was in charge of the staging. A unique and conversational provoking display was the petite arrangement of the Miniature Garden and accompanying Miniature Exhibit. The dainty doll-like structure was arranged by Miss Anna Mann, Mrs. Henry Frisch and Mrs. Lloyd Smith. The garden was carpeted with green moss, had a small mirror lake with appropriate foliage and trees, complete with marble benches, trellis, etc. The miniatures, exact enough to delight child and adult, were both commercial and hand fashioned and many of the small vases contained tiny blossoms.

The table having cactus plants showed many of the wide variety of cacti and included a large assortment of single flowers, some of which were special and costly species of roses and peonies in different shades and size. The cactus table, open to non-members, was under the supervision of Mrs. H. L. Hiernan, Mrs. Albert Kolber and Mrs. Arthur Kleinschmidt.

Lovely Luncheon Table

A luncheon table, set for one, drew much favorable comment from the crowd and was decorated by Mrs. Clark Green. The china on the table was hand-painted by Mrs. Green. Wedgewood china from England owned by Mrs. Vernon Schofield, also made a most attractive setting in lovely oyster white touched with orchid and gold.

Mrs. Schofield has been in charge of the Flower Arrangement Group that has been meeting at the Public Library for the past season. This group has presented to the club many unique ways of arranging flowers to bring out the grace and beauty of each blossom, shrub or work arrangement used.

The general chairman and committees, together with club members, worked hard to make the Flower Show a grand success.

An eye catching display, seen upon entering the large room at the Center, was the section five classification, Arrangement of White Flowers in White Containers. Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Ray Paddock and Mrs. Erwin Aufdenkamp were in charge of this arrangement.

Their table was covered with a green cloth and in using only the white flowers the color combination of white with green remained impressive and unbroken.

Lovely candelabra was effectively used with arresting red, red roses at one end of the table display described at Massive Bouquets for the hall table or chest. Mrs. Rex Ranson, Mrs. Joe Reiser, Mrs. G. I. Graham and Mrs. Oliver Cromwell were in charge of this display.

The 1953 Flower Show not only presented evidence of the lovely flowers grown in this vicinity but the possibilities of arranging the blossoms suitable for any type display and convenience. The efforts of the Garden Club members were well repaid by the enthusiasm of the many visitors over the two day span.

Freed Pilots Resisted Red Brain Washing

The four will tell of their experiences at a news conference later.

An Air Force spokesman said the men would be free to tell everything about their experience in prison at the news conference. He said he knew of no order that would keep them from telling their story.

Shortly after their arrival, the men set off in staff cars to Tripler Army General Hospital for a medical checkup.

Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, Pacific Air Force commander who headed the party of greeters at the air base, said all would receive a complete checkup. They all looked fit, but tired.

They will spend five days in Hawaii in the best quarters Hickam base can provide—the quarters normally reserved for generals.

Two Red Cross nurses met them as they stepped off the plane and draped Hawaiian leis around their necks. The leis were presented Hawaiian style, with a kiss.

The men wore grey slacks and cool sport shirts.

All were convicted in Red China by a military court of "intruding" into Manchuria. The court, sitting May 24, ordered them "deported."

The United States holds the four were shot down over North Korea. But many clashes were near the border it is conceded some crippled planes may have landed in Manchuria.

The airmen were shot down in battles between September, 1952 and January of 1953. Fisher had shot down 10 Red MIG jets.

Young Man Killed As Car Overtakes Near Valley City On Curve

PITTSFIELD, Ill.—An 18 year old Pittsfield boy who was graduated from high school May 27 was killed instantly, and his 19 year old companion was badly injured in an automobile wreck at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening two miles north of Valley City.

The youths were enroute to Meredosia where they had expected to play softball.

Francis Bassett Named To Staff At MacMurray

President Louis W. Norris of MacMurray College announced Wednesday the appointment of Francis J. Bassett to the position of Director of the Office of Development.

Mr. Bassett becomes a permanent staff member at the college, and is replacing Peter Garden, who has been serving in recent months as a consultant from the American City Bureau in Chicago. Mr. Garden completes his work for the college at the end of this month.

Mr. Bassett, having completed a successful period of service as an Associate Director and Public Relations Director for the Lawrence, Massachusetts General Hospital Development Program, brings to MacMurray College a background of professional activities in teaching, administration, and public relations work.

His most recent experience, with the Lawrence General Hospital Development Program, was a combination of public relations and fund-raising.

Mr. Bassett is a graduate of St. Lawrence University, and has a Masters Degree from Teachers College of Columbia University. He has also done graduate work at the graduate school of Education at Harvard and the Littauer School of Public Administration.

Mr. Bassett will be in charge of the Office of Development, and will have responsibility of assisting in the administration staff in the national campaign for $4,000,000 for the further development of MacMurray.

HOPPER & HAMM

The body of Edward Doyle, Jr., was removed from under a 1947 Mercury car which turned over on a curve on the blacktop highway. Doyle is believed to have died almost instantly from head injuries.

The injured boy, James Halpin, 19, a pressman for the Pike County Republican semi-weekly newspaper, walked about three quarters of a mile for help. He reached the home of Harvey Hobson, from which a call was made for the Skinner ambulance at Griggsville.

Doyle's body was taken to the Plattner Funeral Home in Pittsfield, where Coroner Walter Plattner will hold an inquest.

Halpin was removed to Illinois hospital, where his condition was reported as serious. The extent of his injuries had not been determined Wednesday.

Both boys are sons of widowed mothers. Doyle was the son of Mrs. Ella Doyle of North Jackson street. He has several brothers and sisters. His father, Edward Doyle, Sr., was struck and killed by a car here several years ago.

Halpin is the son of Mrs. Alice Halpin of North Monroe street and the late Fred Halpin. He is a 1954 graduate of Pittsfield High school. Doyle participated in the high school commencement exercises last Friday night at which he received his diploma.

Another Gift To Loan Chest For Sick Room

Two members of the Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi presented a child's walker to representatives of the Jacksonville Altrusa club as another addition to the organization's predominating local civic project that of providing a Loan Chest composed of sick room equipment for use by anyone in the community upon request at the Morgan County Health Department.

The provision of a Loan Chest in

Morgan county was started some months ago by the Altrusa club who enlisted help from other social and civic organizations in the city. To date a number of contributions have been made to this worthy endeavor. The Chest can always use new and good used sick room equipment. Anyone with such items wishing to donate same to the Chest should contact Miss Ethel Glascock at the Morgan County

Hold Memorial For Deceased Moose Members

A memorial service was conducted at the local Moose Lodge for deceased members. The service was dedicated to the memory of 29 past members and conducted by Rev. Louis F. Rodenbeck, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at Meredosia. The altar and the officers' stations were draped with black and white, the black to signify the sorrow and the white to signify faith in meeting again.

The lodge room of the Moose home on South Sandy street was decorated for the occasion with American beauty roses. The hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee and Lead Kindly Light, were sung by the assembly. Mrs. Dorothy Watts sang an impressive number, "It is Not Death to Die."

As the secretary, C. E. Rousey, called the names of the departed the governor, C. E. Templin, placed a red rose upon the altar. Rev. Rodenbeck delivered the main meditation. Mrs. Anna B. Smith served as pianist for the occasion.

The names of the deceased members are: Arthur Vestel, Harry W. Olson, Otis Erwin, Roy Sandberg, W. P. Whitman, S. C. Grady, John N. Spaulding, Irvin J. Biggs, William H. Hopper, Charles H. Collins, Thomas Mitchell, Claude R. Suter, Wayne Kitchen, Arthur Perbix, Milton M. Wood, James J. Flynn, Otis Ganger, Louis Nierman, Ernest Hayes, Louis W. Fernandes, James E. Young, James G. Conscience Fund Richer By $5,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plain brown envelope postmarked Ridge-wood, N. J., arrived at Revenue Service headquarters Wednesday carrying what was assumed to be $5,000 worth of someone's aching conscience.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue T. Coleman Andrews took charge of it for the Treasury's general fund, spendable for any thing Congress has approved.

It was one of the biggest "conscience fund" contributions received by the government in many years. But it was not evidence of the most persistently hurting conscience at present. Someone in Seattle, Wash. takes that title. He—or she—has been sending in small contributions since May 4, 1954. Up to today, this contributor had sent the Revenue Service $219.30, in 45 payments ranging from $3 to $15.

Wednesday's contribution was tagged for the conscience fund because it contained no explanatory note. The sender was not identified. The envelope contained two $1,000 bills, one $500 bill, and twenty-five $100 bills. The envelope bore two 5-cent stamps.

Parents Attend Two State School Institutes

Two state-sponsored institutes for parents of handicapped children are scheduled to get under way in Jacksonville this week.

Registration for the eleventh annual school for parents of pre-school deaf and hard-of-hearing children was held Tuesday at Illinois School for the Deaf. The first lecture session was held Wednesday and the institute will continue through June 10.

The tenth annual institute for parents of pre-school blind children is to begin Friday, June 3, at Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School and continue through June 8.

The purpose of each institute is to assist parents of the pre-school children to understand accept and help overcome the handicaps of their youngsters. Children and parents live at the schools during the institutes. Nursery schools and recreation are provided for the children while their parents attend lectures, discussions and workshops.

Sponsors are the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, which operates both schools; the Illinois Department of Public Instruction, and the Jacksonville Board of Education. An additional sponsor of the institute at the School for the Deaf is the Division of Services for Crippled Children of the University of Illinois.

Scott Ag 4-H Show At Winchester August 9

WINCHESTER—The Scott County Agricultural 4-H Show will be held Tuesday, August 9, at Monument Park in Winchester, according to a decision made by local club leaders at a recent meeting.

Health rules and other show regulations will be sent out to each leader in the near future. Few changes will be made in either. However, the leaders voted to permit purebred swine litters with registration papers on each pig to show without any litter ear mark. Also, the baby beef class is to include steers only.

The only change in health rules is to the effect that barrows and market hogs do not need the brucellosis test this year.

Members should have their own veterinarian check their livestock this year. "Dr. Honstead, USDA, yet in charge of brucellosis eradication work here, will be unable to make the health checks this summer," said J. L. Goodin, county youth adviser. "Members should plan to have their regular vet take care of livestock projects at a time suitable to them."

Superintendents named in charge of the various departments were: swine, Robert Worrell; beef, Truman Scott; sheep, Rex Worrell; poultry and rabbits, Claude Day; produce and flowers, Harvey Mueller; other projects, Lester Miller; dairy, Allen Dolen.

William Worrell will again be in charge of ribbons and awards. Registration papers will be checked with Lee Fletcher.

Howard Hurrebrink, chairman of the county 4-H committee, announced two work days. Leaders, members, parents and friends will get the park ready for the show Monday, August 8. Clean-up day will be August 10.

Full information will be sent to each leader and member.

Evicted Dancer To Get Insurance On Burned House

CHICAGO (AP)—A shapely one-time ballet dancer who was evicted from her home which then was burned to the ground will collect $2,800 on her fire insurance policy, her lawyer said Wednesday. Lenora Davis, 32, a red-haired carhop, was evicted Tuesday from her home on Chicago Sanitary District property along the Des Plaines River in suburban Summit.

A crew of sanitary district workmen burned the house under police guard after she removed her belongings.

The sanitary district, which had attempted to evict her for a year, said the seven-room house was blocking construction of a right of way for a railroad spur to be used for dumping sludge.

Miss Davis' lawyer, Clarence M. Dugan, said the company which insured the house has agreed to pay her $2,800 and will then try to collect a like sum from the sanitary district.

"They had no right to burn down the house," he added. "It was a deliberate act."

He said that while Miss Davis had agreed to an eviction order effective May 15, the order affected her personally and did not authorize the district to burn the house.

Earl Derr, real estate manager for the sanitary district, said the house had to be destroyed to make way for the railroad project.

"I don't know how the insurance company can collect any money from us," he added.

Miss Davis claimed she bought the house for $3,000 and was assigned a lease with the sanitary district through the former owner. The district contends the lease was not assignable.

STRATTON TO CROWN HARVARD MILK QUEEN

HARVARD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Stratton will crown the 1955 "milk queen" Saturday when Harvard observes its 14th annual Milk Day, officials announced Wednesday.

The governor is to lead an hour-long parade starting at 1:30 p.m. and will speak at the Harvard Speedway Grounds before the coronation ceremony.

Milk Day is sponsored by the Harvard Chamber of Commerce in recognition of 1,500 dairy farmers of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin who supply some 250,000 quarts of milk a day to the Chicago market. Harvard is in McHenry County in northern Illinois.

Eighteen high school girls are queen candidates, to be narrowed to six finalists Friday. A show of

65 Million Passenger Cars Is 1975 Estimate

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Junior, just hitting his stride in high school, wants a car. Mom would like to have her own auto. Dad, the breadwinner, wants a new model.

Put them together with millions of others who like to trade in old cars for new ones every year and you have some idea of why the tremendous growth in passenger car requirements in the years just ahead.

Annual sales volume in excess of six million cars, some of them say, will be commonplace. In round figures there are today about 48 million passenger cars registered in the United States. Within five years, auto merchandising experts say, the total will exceed 54 million.

The figures are not fantastic. They are the result of exhaustive studies by the car makers and others.

High in their calculations is the increasing demand for a second and third car in families with high-school-age boys and girls.

Universal Credit Corp. recently made a survey of the car market through its 40 divisions throughout the nation. It came up with the conclusion that by 1960 families owning more than one car will number 7 1/2 million. It probably is worth emphasizing that the figures mean upward of 15 million cars. At present an estimated 4 1/2 million families own two or more cars.

"If you doubt the size of the younger market," said one credit executive, "look at the number of automobiles parked around any high school."

The credit corporation's statistics have figured out that some 16 million American wives are married at home every day when their husbands take the family car. They say 10 million of these wives are licensed drivers who need and want transportation. And suburban living, they say, has made ownership of a second car a real necessity.

There are no official figures on how many persons buy a new model car every year. But there are several million year-old cars in the inventories of the used car dealers. It could be that prevailing price discounts on new cars bring into the market many buyers with year-old models to trade in.

There is no way of determining how long price slashing at the retail level will continue. Some experts say it will continue just as long as factory output exceeds retail deliveries. At the present rate of production and retail sales that could be indefinitely.

But a major work stoppage in the auto industry could wipe out all price discounting overnight. Whether such a stoppage will result from labor's demand for a guaranteed annual wage in the auto industry is yet to be determined.

The car assembly lines, meanwhile, are roaring along at close to record levels.

Bible School To Open 6 At Central Baptist

At 9:00 a. m. Monday, June 6, daily vacation Bible school will begin at Central Baptist Church, West State and North Church. The school will continue Monday through Friday for two weeks, with commencement services Sunday evening, June 19, at 8:00 p. m. The classes will assemble each morning at 9 o'clock and dismiss at 12 noon.

There will be five departments ranging from four years of age through 16 years of age. Each department will have a staff of trained workers and teachers to guide and counsel each child attending. The theme of the school this year will be "Marching On," and will be based upon the great fundamentals of Bible truth.

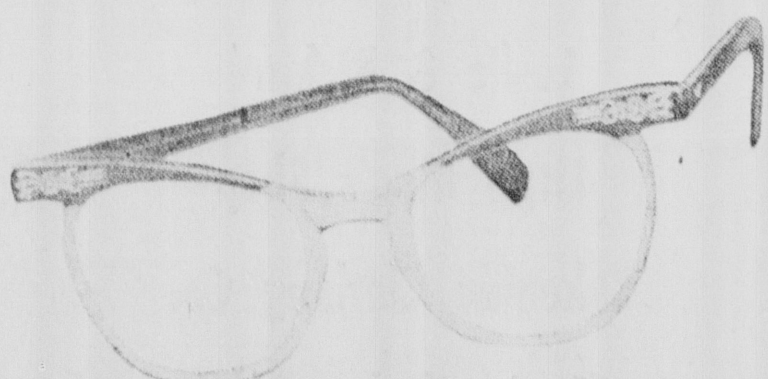

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports that, "in 1927 there were more than 17 million children in our nation who received no religious education of any kind, and in 1947 over 25 million received none." Today it is even greater.

The two-week school will be "Bible Centered" in every respect and interwoven in the study of the Bible will be periods devoted to recreation music and handcraft. All boys and girls between four and 16 are invited to attend the school.

The American Bible Society translated the Scriptures into six new languages in 1954 bringing the total number of languages into which it has been translated the Scriptures to 1,084.

The National Education Assn. says there will be an annual increase of a million pupils in U. S. public schools until 1960.

THIS WILL NEVER GET TOO POPULAR—When a gasoline station attendant goes formal, it's time to take pictures. So here's Julius Edwards, dressed in top hat, white tie and tails as he serves a customer in Elyria, Ohio. For two days he celebrated the sale of four million gallons of gasoline in six and a half years, giving to lucky customers balloons, lollipops and a total of 500 gallons of gas.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP NEWS ANALYST

The jitters with which the Western world watched the beginning of the Russian - Yugoslav talks seem to be dying out as the days go on without any indication that Tito is falling for the Kremlin line.

Of course, the West doesn't know what really may be happening. But the general atmosphere seems to be one of Yugoslav determination not to have her independence undermined.

All the enthusiastic statements about the prospect for closer relations are coming from the Russians. There are all sorts of stories—some perhaps apocryphal—about the reserve shown by Tito.

The "mutual understanding" referred to in the Monday night communique seems merely to mean that the Russians have been given to understand Yugoslavia will not again become a satellite.

There are also indications that Tito has shown no intention of expressing any appreciation of Russia's newly formalized military bloc in Eastern Europe, much less of joining it.

Indeed, this sentiment has been openly expressed in the press both before and during the conferences, and Yugoslavia is going ahead as usual with the Western military aid program while refusing it from Russia. The widespread talk of neutralism as a primary subject at the conference has died down.

The ringleadership of Nikita Khrushchev, Russia's Communist party boss, accompanied by the subversion of Premier Bulganin, indicates Russia's chief objective was to get a statement of Yugoslav adherence to a common ideology with Russia. Tito seems in no mood to go along, although there undoubtedly will be a generalized statement at the end of the conference which will be interpreted by the Russian propagandists as they see fit, because it won't really mean anything.

In some respects, the atmosphere produced by the conferences has parallels with those produced by the recent Asia-Africa conference at Bandung.

The West expected both to be dangerous, feared that both would be used by the Communists to stir up anti-Western propaganda.

Instead, Bandung served to demonstrate that the underdeveloped countries really had a better understanding of the world position than they had been given credit for.

Now Belgrade promises more evidence of the weakening Communist position.

TWO FINED TUESDAY IN J.P. COURT

Jerseyville Girl To See German Kin First Time

JERSEYVILLE — Mrs. Donald Sears and daughter, Marie-Theresa, of Jerseyville will leave Tuesday for New York City and will sail from there June 2 on the "M. S. Berlin" for Germany for a 10-weeks' visit with the former's mother, Mrs. Minna Schmidt. They will return to Jerseyville Aug. 20.

Mrs. Sears who was formerly Miss Kaethe Schmidt, was a German war bride of Donald Sears whom she married during World War II. She has been a resident of Jerseyville for seven years and has been a naturalized citizen of the United States four years.

This is Mrs. Sears' first visit to her former home since she came to the States and her mother has never seen Marie-Theresa Sears who is now six years of age. Mrs. Schmidt had planned a visit to the home of her son-in-law and daughter in Jerseyville but was prevented from coming by the illness of her husband.

Shows Historic Flag

Mrs. Sears recently appeared on television and displayed a hand-made American flag which was first flown over her home in Germany when the Russian occupation of the country began. The Russians declared a "victory day" and sent word that the citizens of Berlin should display a flag of "one" of the four powers or go to jail. The Schmidts chose to fly an American flag and set about making one and because of the short notice, worked all night to have it ready for "victory day." They supplanted their meagre knowledge of the flag with a picture in an encyclopedia and used small pieces of red, white and blue they were able to assemble. The red stripes were made of ticking, the blue background is silk and the white stars are sewn on both sides of the flag.

The pleasure in their accomplishment was short-lived. When "victory day" arrived theirs was the only home flying an American flag—all the others were Russian flags. They were commanded at once to take down the flag or have their home destroyed by fire.

The family kept the flag and recently Mrs. Sears mother sent it over to her in Jerseyville.

ROODHOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ballard have returned from a month's visit in the home of his son, Russell Ballard, St. Paul, Minn.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryder were her sisters, the Misses Jeanie and Margaret Knapp, Winchester. Also visitors in the same home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Woodin and three sons, Marsailles, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knapp, Winchester.

Rev. William Hamm, Pontiac, Mich., arrived here Wednesday, to visit his mother, Mrs. C. G. Hamm, and his brother, Ralph Hamm, and family. Rev. Hamm attended the Rotary convention held in Chicago.

W. W. Wilkinson visited relatives in Palmyra, Mo., and other points in that state during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Holt, Wentzville, Mo., have been visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Janvren, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire McQuogn, Dayton, Ohio, are visiting Mrs. Neva Funk, Mrs. Edna Spencer, and other relatives and friends in Roodhouse and Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harms and family, Evansville, Ind., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harms, and family, Evansville, Ind., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harms, and family.

Mrs. E. H. Todd and friend, Mrs. May Hayes, Springfield, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Strain and others here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John DuHasek, Chicago, returned home Monday after a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tennill. Mrs. DuHasek will be remembered as Blanche Rawlins, a former local high school instructor. Also a weekend visitor in the Tennill home was their daughter, Miss Rebecca Tennill, Springfield.

Senters and family, and also with his mother in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Joe Cosner was taken to the Memorial hospital, Springfield, in the Gainer ambulance Thursday night of last week, a son being born, who passed away Friday morning. Burial was made Saturday afternoon at the Oak Ridge cemetery, Springfield. Rev. Guy Harris, of this city, had charge of the services at the grave.

MRS. CLARK HOSTESS AT PARTY HONORING MRS. HEBERLING

WHITE HALL — Mrs. Sheldon Clark was hostess on Thursday night with a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Joe Heberling, the former Carol Smith. Decorations were in the pink and blue theme with nut cups of miniature rattles and a beautifully decorated bassinet holding the gifts. Attending the party were Mrs. Pat Fisher, Mrs. Ralph Heberling, Mrs. Arnold Taylor, Mrs. Joe Pruitt, Patsy Heberling, Mrs. Henry Pruitt, Mrs. Arden Walker, Mrs. Raymond Wendell, Mrs. Bill May, Mrs. Roy Castleberry. Many who could not attend sent gifts. Assisting the hostess in serving refreshments were Mrs. Roy Anderson and Miss Dorothy Anderson.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HELD IN HONOR OF MISS MIDDLETON

A surprise birthday dinner was served Sunday, May 22, honoring Miss Grace Middleton at her home. Following the potluck style supper games and singing were enjoyed by the group. Miss Middleton received a number of nice gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson and Eloise, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coultas, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Megginson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Middleton, Davey and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Middleton, Peggy and Gary and Robert Middleton.

TOUGH BREAK—In the spring, diamonds are a boy's best friend, unless that home run to left field is interrupted by a window. That's what happened here, and a little slugger of the Fort Worth, Tex., sandlots maps strategy to recover the ball.

Kaydeen Farrow Honored At Party In Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — Miss Kaydeen Farrow of Jacksonville, formerly of Carrollton, was guest of honor at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. W. P. Gilmore, Saturday evening with Mrs. Herbert Widdowson, Mrs. H. L. Varble, Carrollton, and Miss Betty Siebermann, St. Louis, Mo., as assisting hostesses. Twenty-five friends from Roodhouse, Jacksonville, and Carrollton were present.

The gifts were grouped about seven cakes whose iced tops in colors formed the skirts of the ladies of a bridal party and concluded with the miniature groom to complete the characters.

Following an evening playing Monto Carlo Whist, prizes were awarded to Miss Pauline Rickmann, MacMurray College, Mrs. Foote, Miss Farrow, and Mrs. Gladys Forrester, all of Jacksonville.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream and punch were served during the evening.

Miss Farrow is to become the bride of Lt. Everett Patterson of Winchester, now stationed at Enid, Okla.

A BOY'S BEST FRIEND—It's hard to say just who is spreading around more moisture, little Chuck Fishman or Tawnie, a boxer puppy. Sad scene took place in New York.

A RISING MODEL—A pretty model is riding on a TV couch that is lifted by a new portable hoist developed in Germany. It lifts heavy loads into fourth floor apartments.

SHAPELY FORMATIONS—These lovely guides are showing us (we thought we'd go along too) through the Meramec caverns in Stanton, Mo. This part of the caverns is the Spaghetti Room. The formations in the caverns are some 100 million years old.

GRACIOUS GIFT—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, the United States ambassador to Italy, appears pleased with this hand-carved crucifix given to her by a delegation of women from the Small Landowners congress in Rome. Two members in regional costume stand behind her.

THE HIGH COUNTRY—Among the most scenic regions of the state of Colorado in this area around Nymph lake, in Rocky Mountain National park. The white-capped peak in center background is famous Longs peak, 14,255 feet high.

MINK IS COLLARED—We doubt if you'll rush out to your favorite men's shop, but, as a public service, we bring you the latest in male fashions. Gals are looking at Dick Norman and no wonder. He's wearing a blue sapphire mink collar that is wrapped around a genuine, pure wool gabardine shirt at a Los Angeles fashion show.

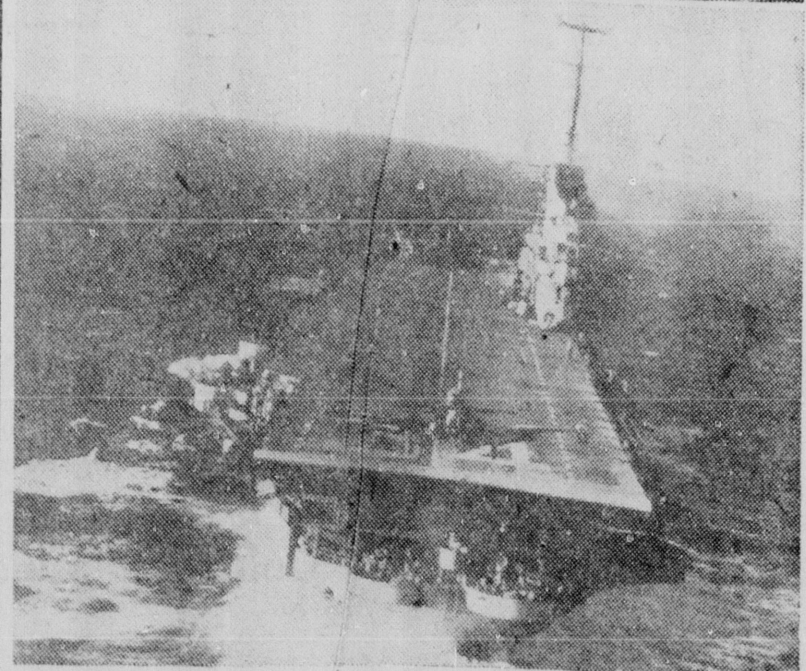

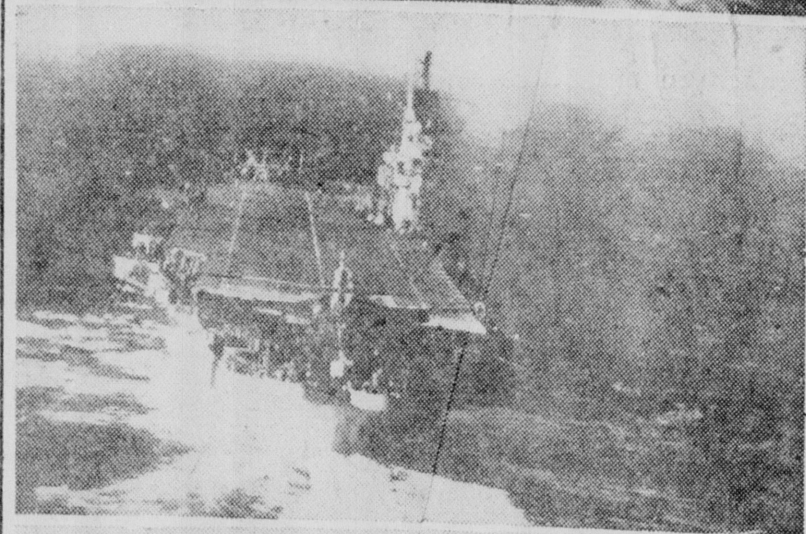

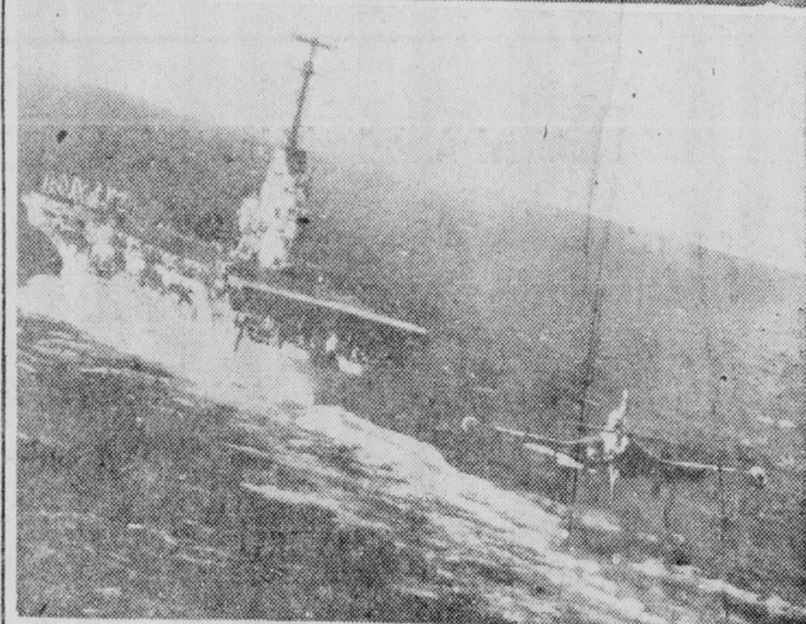

ATOMIC PINBALL MACHINE—An operator shoots gas atoms and molecules to score a quick chemical analysis at United States Steel's new laboratory in Monroeville, Pa. The first mass spectrometer in the steel industry, this instrument smashes molecules of gases and vapors into small fragments, then weighs resulting atoms and radicals.

Franklin High School Seniors Visit Chicago

FRANKLIN—The senior class of the Franklin high school took a sight-seeing tour of Chicago, going up last Saturday and returning Tuesday night. They were accompanied by their class sponsors, William Farley and Achilles Colliodi, and two mothers, Mrs. McDewitt and Mrs. Tribble. Ralph Long, and wife drove the school bus for transportation.

The class visited Riverview Park, Brookfield Zoo, Midway Airport, and many historical and scientific places. They saw the city on a sight-seeing bus and were thrilled in Chinatown and Skid Row. At the theatre they saw Louie Armstrong and Gary Crosby in person. They attended church on Sunday at some of the largest temples in the city.

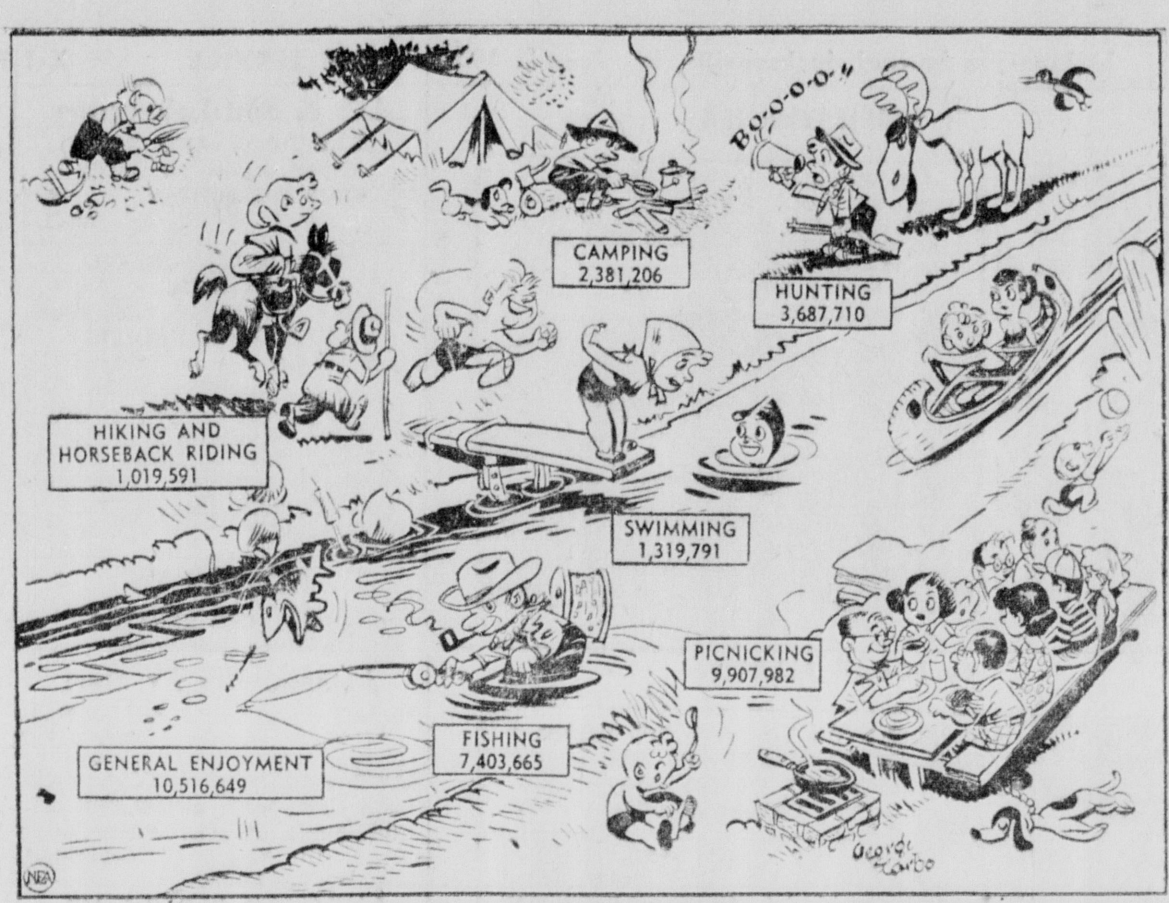

Rev. and Mrs. P. G. Batty visited Mrs. Batty's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Nevins, in Palmyra Monday.

Miss Edna Hutches of Bellville visited her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Chance, from Saturday to Monday. Mrs. Chance took her home on Monday.

Mrs. M. B. Keplinger was taken to Our Saviour's hospital last Friday for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bitcon of Grinnell, Iowa were guests of Mrs. Maude Wiley and other friends over the weekend. Mrs. Bitcon is the daughter of the Rev. John Kettke, who was a pastor of Durbin church many years ago.

Mrs. Charles Kibler and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Calhoun of IT'S OUTING TIME—And the Agriculture Department's Forest Service this year is expecting a record crop of guests in its 151 national forests. More than 40 million persons used the forests as recreation areas in 1954, more than double the prewar high set in 1941. Sketch shows a breakdown of 1954 forest visits by purpose. Separate figures for canoeing, scientific study and wilderness travel are not available. The parks, which cover more than 180 million acres in Alaska and the United States, are free, except for specially equipped areas. Guests are asked only to leave places as they would like to find them—trash taken care of and equipment in good condition.

Morton, Ill., were calling on Mrs. Julia Wright and other Franklin aunts, Misses Tirza and Amanda Ranson, at Passavant hospital Sunday. Mrs. Calhoun is the widow of the late Taylor Cal-Sayre, accompanied them from Literberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jewsbury and Albert Jewsbury had as guests Sunday Clarence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jewsbury of Jacksonville. His uncle, Henry Jewsbury, Mrs. Dean Seymour's father, Viron Jewsbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy day and Monday.

Bring hospitality up to date —

Serve the modern, the light refreshment

FIRST rule of modern entertainment: food and drink must be plentiful without being heavy.

Today's guests prefer it that way. Because modern appetites favor the lighter, less filling dishes—to the benefit of looks, of figures and of health. And today's best hostesses respect this modern taste.

As Pepsi-Cola respects it too! Because Pepsi, too, has kept up with the times. That's why today's Pepsi-Cola is dry (not too sweet), reduced in calories—and why Pepsi is today more popular than ever.

Bring hospitality up to date. Serve Pepsi-Cola, the modern, the light refreshment. It refreshes without filling.

SPECIAL NOTICE
ATTENTION—Cozy Curve Cafe, 41 miles North of Winchester, now open 24 hours daily. 6-1-61-S

A survey by the Japanese government indicates that half of Japan's 50 million adults never drink intoxicating beverages.

HEADS PTA — Mrs. Rollin Brown of Los Angeles, Calif., is the new president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The slim, graying mother isn't ashamed to tell her age: "Why should I hide it?" she asks. "I'm 58, and it's a matter of public record."

"Care to have the floor painted too, dear?"

WATER SKIPPER—Terry Allen does 25 miles an hour on the Hudson River, near Inwood, N.Y., on a new seven-by-four-foot plywood boat with a Mercury Mark 7 outboard motor. The one operator is steered by shifting weight. Speed is regulated by a hand throttle with spring safety control.

Members of the second, third and fourth year Latin Classes at the Jacksonville high school, fifty in number, enjoyed a Roman Banquet Tuesday evening, May 24, at the high school complete with typical foods and dress. The accompanying pictures show a view of the banquet table for the Roman Gods and Goddesses, the separate room in which the slaves dined, a Latin student presenting her portion of the program and six of the best dressed "Romans."

The larger of the two lower row pictures show a group of the diner. At the table nearest the camera the two "Romans" enjoying chicken with faces toward camera are, left Larry Beemer and right, Ed Foreman. In the background can be seen, to the left of Foreman, Mr. Agger, and to the right, Mrs. Savage. The smaller picture is of Lois Henderson presenting her portion of the program.

The five course banquet was served in the school cafeteria at 6:30. The room had been decorated as Mount Olympus with the main guests, Gods and Goddesses. Fourteen of the second year Latin students volunteered to be the necessary slaves and serve the meal. Charles McPike was the King and Sherwin Walker, the Queen at the banquet. The five courses partaken by the Latin students ranged from eggs to apples (soup to nuts) as the Romans would express it and included the following: deviled eggs; assorted relishes; main course one-half unjoined fried chicken eaten with corn-on-cob (only non-Roman item) and plain bread which was dipped in honey; salad of lettuce wedges and tomatoes dipped in French dressing and dessert course of assorted fresh fruits and individual cakes.

The entire meal was eaten without the benefit of silverware. After each course the slaves would appear with bowls of water and towels for the convenience of the diners. The program included the following: Trojan War resume by Carol Omundson; boys quartet singing "Sophomore Philosophy," John Jackson, Ed Foreman, Jerre Samples and Charles Cleland; original story of "Jasper," a new God on Mount Olympus; oration, 13th Labor of Hercules, by Lois Henderson and an original play, "Unpleasant Gift," written by Bob Davis, second year Latin student.

Carpet-Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the "easiest and cleanest" home rug cleaner known as Blue Lustre is now available. It is the development of years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue in the nap after cleaning. The pile is left open and fluffy and the colors are restored to original brilliance as if by magic. All this plus the fact that it's easy to apply and safe for the finest fabrics makes Blue Lustre the answer to the wall to wall carpet cleaning problem.

Blue Lustre is a concentrate and inexpensive to use. A half gallon will clean three 9 x 12 rugs.
